

140 GRADUATED BY GETTYSBURG HIGH SCHOOL SUNDAY NIGHT

"Continue your education; be proud of your tasks; take life as it comes and train yourselves to think as citizens of the whole United States."

That was the advice given 140 Gettysburg High School seniors at their commencement-baccalaureate Sunday evening by Lt. Col. John S. D. Eisenhower of Gettysburg in his commencement address. His theme was "The Graduate as a Citizen."

The 1,500-seat auditorium was filled for the exercises presided over by High School Principal Clifford B. Snowberger. The diplomas were presented by Superintendent of Schools H. Edgar Riegle.

CONTINUE EDUCATION

The ceremonies opened with a procession of the members of the graduating class, guests, faculty and school board members. After the hymn, "This Is My Father's World," the invocation was given by Chaplain Edwirth E. Korte of Miami University, Miami, O. father of a member of the graduating class.

Then the Senior High School Choir, directed by Paul Grove, sang three selections and Supt. Riegle introduced the speaker.

Col. Eisenhower said in part: "I think it is the responsibility of all of us to continue with our education by whatever means are available. By education I mean continuation of the learning process, of keeping mentally alive and growing intellectually. You can continue your education and I can continue my education by reading, by thinking and by discussing topics of current interest with friends. . . . The more you learn, the more you develop an appreciation of the world about you and the more you desire to know. . . ."

UP TO INDIVIDUAL

"But before leaving the subject of our responsibility for continuing our education, I would like to stress that obtaining this education is a job for every individual himself. I think it is desirable for every individual who has the means at his disposal to continue his formal education through college. But in the last analysis it is the effort put forth by the

TWO FILE SUIT FOR $50,000 AFTER CRASH

Two persons who claim injuries when a car in which they were riding was in a collision with a farm tractor last summer at St. Anthony's, Md., on U. S. 15, have filed suit for $50,000 in damages in Circuit Court, Frederick.

Filing the suit through their attorney, Raymond L. Poston, Frederick, are Joyce Lundbeck, Kensington, described in the suit as driver of the car, and Robert E. Burbank, Bethesda. Each seeks $25,000 and costs.

The defendants are Marshall Vernon Sharrer Jr., who was named operator of the tractor, and Donald Moser, Emmitsburg, R. D., owner of the tractor.

The accident occurred August 11, 1960, at the intersection of U. S. 15 and Motter's Station Rd. Sharrer was crossing the intersection, according to a report from state police at the time of the accident.

"FAILED TO STOP"

The plaintiffs claim Sharrer failed to stop at stop sign, failed to grant right of way, failed to keep a proper lookout, exceeded a reasonable speed, failed to keep the vehicle under control and failed to give full time and attention to his driving. Sharrer was listed as 17 years old at the time of the accident.

Miss Lundbeck, 24, at the time of the accident claims she suffered a fractured ankle, whiplashed lesion of spine, bruises and abrasions; also that she incurred hospital and medical expense, lost her earning power, which in probability could be a continuing situation; and she suffers permanent pain, mental anguish and nervousness.

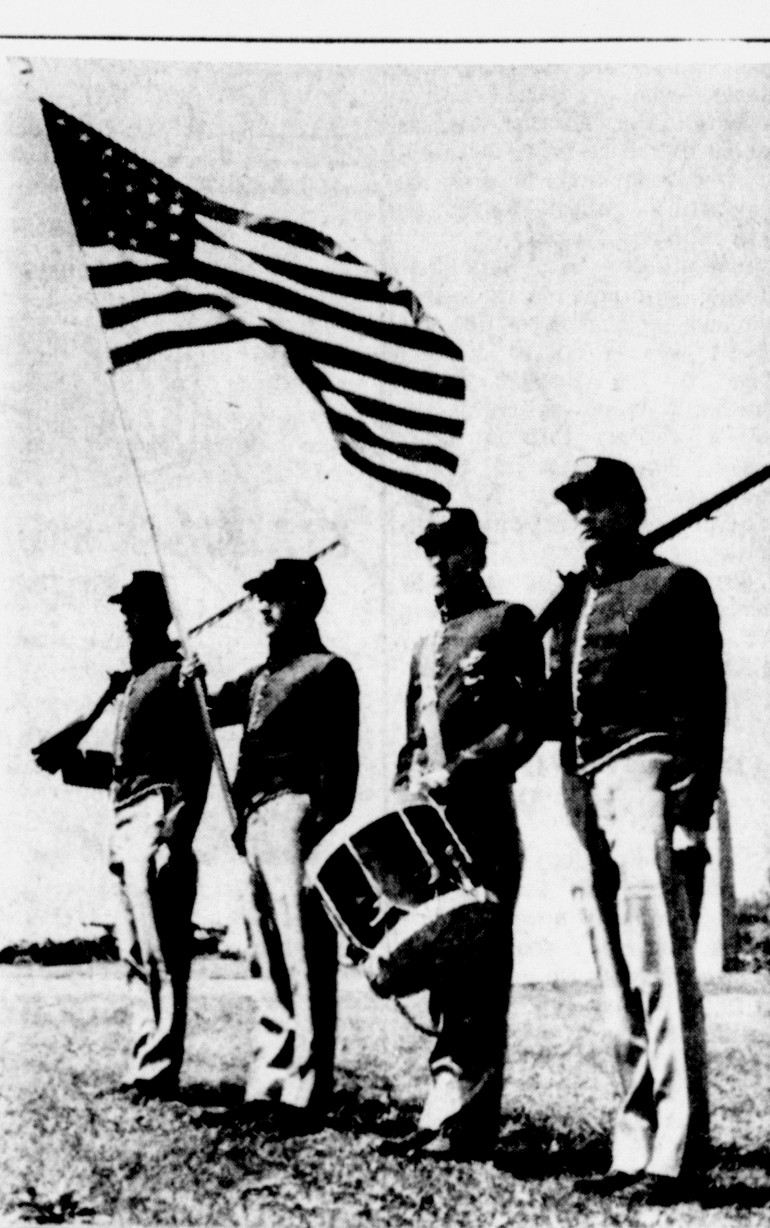

Burbank claims injuries including an aggravation of a pre-existing injury to his back, hospital and medical expenses and loss of earning power and mental pain and anguish.

A trial by jury is demanded.

New Uniforms For Color Guards

The color guard of the Gettysburg Senior High School Band will be garbed in authentic Civil War style when the band heads the Memorial Day parade here Tuesday afternoon. Two of the uniforms worn by the color guard are trimmed with scarlet and two with gold. The jackets are navy blue and the trousers a lighter blue. The cap is of navy blue with ornamental emblem of gilded metal. From left to right, above, John Lott has an 1861 vintage musket. Ronald Deitch a 35-starred flag, Harold Weikert a rope tensioned drum of Civil War period and Donald Kozant an 1861 vintage rifle. The Band Parents' Club which secured the four uniforms is considering the possibility of providing similar Civil War uniforms for the entire band by Memorial Day, 1962. The uniforms worn by the color guard were donated by the Hall of Presidents, the rifles were loaned by Robert Spangler and Sons of Union Veterans, the drum is loaned by Fred Kropp and the 35-starred flag by Rea and Derick. Hugh Keckler, Gettysburg R. 2, reported to borough police Sunday that someone struck right rear fender of his 1962 Pontiac while it was parked in the lot at the EUB Church.

Microwave Cable Relay Stations Are Dynamited

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Dynamite blasts that shattered three lonely, unattended microwave and cable relay communications stations in Utah and Nevada Sunday touched off a multi-state manhunt and produced a war-like nervousness.

The question of whether the mysterious explosions were set by saboteurs, or vandals, was on many lips.

Within hours after the dawn explosions, FBI agents, armed National Guard troops and area police began hunting the persons, or persons, who for a moment cut a nerve in America's civil defense communications system.

The damaged stations all are located in the desert of western Utah and eastern Nevada and along U.S. highway 40-50A. The stations are part of the American Telephone and Telegraph system. The first blast, at 4:55 a.m., demolished a microwave tower three miles west of Wendover on the Utah-Nevada line. The second,

2 Countians Take Peace Corps Exam

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Davis, R. 6, were among the applicants for assignments with the Peace Corps to take examinations on Saturday. They were given the exam by the Civil Service Commission in Harrisburg.

Dr. Nichols Hobbs, former president of Princeton, said "being able to do a job well will be one of the first qualifications of a Peace Corps volunteer. What we want are practical people with basic skills. The tests were designed to measure an individual's capabilities regardless of the extent of his schooling."

BERMUDIAN GRADUATION HELD SUNDAY

The auditorium of the new Bermudian Springs High School was the scene Sunday evening at 8 o'clock of the first high school baccalaureate commencement for the 57 members of the graduating class who had spent most of their high school days at East Berlin and York Springs. The new school went into use in February. About 1,000 attended the exercises.

The commencement address was delivered by C. W. Eisenhower, principal of the Steelton-Highspire High School and a former resident of the county. His subject was "Spires" and he told the seniors a formula for success would include "aspiration, inspiration and perspiration." He added, "Dreaming alone will not bring success but dreams plus hard work form a combination that can bring realization of high goals in life."

The program opened with a procession by the high school band under the direction of Garry Crum. After the national anthem, the invocation was given by the Rev. William H. Anderman Jr., pastor of the Zwingle United Church of Christ of East Berlin. Scripture was read by Robert E. Smith, a member of the graduating class.

PRESIDENTS SPEAK

Addresses of the class presidents were given by Betty Ann Hinkle for the East Berlin unit and Stephen M. Chronister for the York Springs unit. The Senior Chorus then sang "Psalm 150" and Mr. Eisenhower's address followed.

After a band selection, the members of the graduating class were (Continued On Page 8)

R. E. MILLER, 67, WORLD WAR I VETERAN, DIES

Raymond Emory Miller, 67, Gardner R. 1, World War I veteran and chairman of the Huntingdon Twp. board of supervisors, dropped dead on a road in the northern end of Huntingdon Twp. as he and other workmen arrived at their work site for the morning.

Mr. Miller was walking from his car toward a road grader when he dropped to the roadway and death followed quickly. Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, placed the time of death at 7:30 o'clock and said the cause was a coronary occlusion.

The deceased was a native of that township and a son of the late John W. and Rosie D. (Bowers) Miller. Surviving are his widow, Lelah (Guise) Miller; a daughter, Mrs. Luther Mummert, Gardner R. 1; a grandchild, two sisters, Mrs. Gertrude Guise, York Springs, and Mrs. Maude Loughbaugh, Gardner.

SERVED IN FRANCE

Mr. Miller was a member of the Albert J. Lentz Post No. 202 of Gettysburg and belonged to the local post of the VFW and its Home Association.

He enlisted at Gettysburg in June of 1918 and served as a wagoner for a supply company of the 17th Field Artillery. He took part in the St. Mihiel and the Argonne offensives and was discharged from Camp Dix in August, 1919.

Funeral services Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Pittenturf Funeral Home in York Springs with Rev. John W. Fry, Gettysburg, officiating. Interment in Sunnyside Cemetery at York Springs.

Summer Bungalow Destroyed By Fire

Fire destroyed a small summer bungalow along Bermudian Creek between East Berlin and Davisburg about 8 p.m. Saturday, causing damage estimated at $1,000.

Fire Chief Melvin Eisenhart, of East Berlin Fire Company, which answered the alarm, said the fire started from an overheated stove. The stove fire was started, according to the chief, by Lawrence Lentz, York, who had rented the cottage for the weekend from the owner, Boyd Harbold, East Berlin.

The chief said the damage included $200 to contents and firemen were at the scene about two hours.

COMMUNITIES HOLD ANNUAL MAY 30 RITES

Hundreds gathered over the weekend for traditional memorial services in many communities over the weekend with the strewing of flowers, speech making, prayers and music employed to pay tribute to honored war dead.

Biglerville

State Sen. D. Elmer Hawbaker, representing the Adams-Franklin District, paid tribute to the dead at Memorial Day services held in Biglerville Sunday afternoon. A parade was held from the elementary school to the cemetery before the services.

The flag ritual was performed by Adams County Associate Judge Clarence Deardorff. After the invocation by Rev. Dr. Henry Sternat, the Biglerville High School band played a selection. Vincent Burke and Patricia Boyer, Sixth Grade students at the Biglerville Elementary School, gave "Lincoln's Gettysburg Address" and "In Flanders Field," respectively. After anther selection by the band, Rev. Dr. Sternat pronounced the benediction.

The parade was led by six members of the South Mountain Riding Club. Other units were children of the churches with flowers, Girl and Boy Scouts, Veterans of World War I in automobiles and a unit from the American Legion post.

LOCAL MAN JAILED

Olden Shultz, 240 Chambersburg St., was sentenced to 30 days in jail in lieu of a $10 fine and costs for being drunk and disorderly by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder at a hearing Saturday afternoon. He was arrested late Friday evening at the Varsity Diner.

MARK ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Culp, 842 Highland Ave., are observing their 46th wedding anniversary at home today. Mr. Culp and the former Miss Loretta Kimple were married May 29, 1915, in St. Gregory's Catholic Church, Baltimore. Culp has been a member of the borough police force for many years.

Frederick W. "Billy" Renner Jr., 20, Fairfield R. 1, was fatally injured early Sunday morning when an auto in which he was a passenger upset on the Orrtanna-Fairfield Rd., 1.3 miles north of Fairfield.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said the death of the young sailor was caused by a fractured skull, crushed chest and internal injuries.

Seaman Renner, stationed at Washington, D. C., had arrived home Friday night on a weekend leave. Saturday evening, according to Dr. Crist, he had gone to Rock Top Inn for dancing and was enroute home when the accident occurred at 1:15 o'clock Sunday morning.

DRIVER'S ANKLE BROKEN

State police said Renner was a passenger in a car driven by James P. Tully, 25, of 351 E. King St., Littlestown. Police said the car was being driven south when it ran off the highway and overturned.

Renner was tossed from the sedan as it overturned and fell on the center of the highway. Tully was pinned with his ankle under the car and the vehicle had to be lifted to permit his release. Removed to the Warner Hospital, he was found to have a fractured left ankle and lacerations of the entire body.

An 11-year-old child accompanying the two men, Bruce Elmar Fitz, Littlestown, had contusions and abrasions of the face, head and body and a laceration of the right ankle. The Fitz child is a nephew of Tully and resides at his home.

DIED AT HOSPITAL

All three occupants of the car were removed to the Warner Hospital by the Gettysburg Firemen's ambulance. Renner's death occurred at 3:50 o'clock at the hospital, according to the police report.

The car was demolished. Police estimate damage at $900. A member of Incarnation United Church of Christ, Emmitsburg, Seaman Renner was a (Continued On Page 8)

IRISH BRIGADE GROUP HOLDS PILGRIMAGE

The descendants of the Irish-Americans who fought bravely to prevent the partition of America should speak up to end the partition of Ireland, the land of their ancestors, approximately 100 members of the Irish Brigade Memorial Association of Philadelphia were told Saturday afternoon during their third annual pilgrimage to the Gettysburg Battlefield.

Memorial services were held by the group following a "parade" through the town, at the 69th Pennsylvania monument at the Angle, at the Father Corby statue along Hancock Ave. and at the 69th New York monument in the Loop.

Robert Tweedy, Baltimore, first vice president of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, and attorney Frank Durkan, national officer of the AOH, were the two principal speakers who referred to the partition of Ireland as "an ancient wrong which should be righted." Tweedy said, "The Irish fought so bravely for their adopted land in the Civil War not only out of gratitude for what America had given them, but also because they knew the evil of partition." He continued, "I don't know what else we can do to end partition of Ireland, but the good Lord gave the Irish the ability to speak up." He added, "We are in a peculiar position in that we gladly pay taxes to the country that has become ours and which has done so much for us, but at the same time some of those taxes go to help England which subsidizes a puppet government in the north of Ireland and so we in effect are paying taxes to keep separated the six northern counties of the (Continued On Page 8)

MOB VIOLENCE SEEN AGAIN IN SOUTH AFRICA

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Violence broke out in South Africa today as nonwhites started a three-day political strike. African mobs blocked roads and stoned worker buses.

In Port Elizabeth an African bus driver was shot and wounded trying to steer his bus through a stone throwing gang.

Several other buses also were stoned in segregated Negro townships outside Port Elizabeth and Durban, at road blocks made of gasoline drums, poles and rocks.

Frightened drivers wanted to quit but police promised them protection, and escorted the buses through.

RADIO QUOTED POLICE

The government - controlled South African radio quoted police and military officials as saying, "The natives are going to work as usual. There is no support for the strike call in Johannesburg."

But there was evidence that a high percentage of the Africans employed in this city were staying away from their jobs. Hardly any were to be seen in streets that normally are crowded with them during the morning rush hour. The railroad station looked deserted when it should have been jammed. The South African Press Association estimated that only a fifth the usual number of black workers were coming in by train.

TIMED TO CLIMAX

The strike was timed to climax Wednesday, when South Africa becomes a republic outside the British Commonwealth. The demonstration was in protest against Prime Minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd's refusal to discuss demands that the right to vote and serve in the government be extended from the country's 3 million whites to its 11 million Negroes, 1.5 million persons of mixed blood and 500,000 Indians.

Every policeman and every soldier in South Africa, plus 5,000 reservists called up for the emergency, were mobilized to back up Verwoerd's promise that any non-white wanting to work would be given protection.

White families were armed for self-defense, and had food supplies against any shortage.

$5,000 Damages In Two-Car Collision

Two drivers were injured when their late model cars were demolished in a collision at the intersection of Rts. 333 and 533 in Pleasant Hill, Franklin County, Friday. Police set damage at approximately $5,000.

Treated at the Chambersburg Hospital were Rippey D. Francis, 36, of Gettysburg, and Richard W. Kanarr, 32, of Chambersburg.

The Gettysburg man was treated for multiple cuts of the knee, right arm, and forehead, a rib injury and multiple abrasions and contusions. Kanarr was treated for cuts of both legs, left wrist and chin, a rib injury and multiple abrasions and contusions.

State police said that Francis, driving a 1960 model convertible, failed to stop at a stop sign as he entered the intersection and his car crashed into the Kanarr car, traveling south. Damage to the Francis car was set at $2,300 and to the Kanarr car, a 1960 model Buick, at $2,500. Also damaged was a state Highway Department traffic sign and the lawn of the property of John D. Wenger.

Blue Laws Are Upheld By Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today upheld constitutionality of Sunday blue laws.

Chief Justice Warren delivered the court's decision. The tribunal ruled in cases specifically applying to blue laws of Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Blue laws, which restrict Sunday activities in many states, originated in Colonial America to compel observance of the Sabbath.

Lawyers attacking the statutes said they have become "a lethal weapon in the economic war of competition" among retailers. The lawyers also argued the laws were religious statutes, enforcement of which violated the U. S. Constitution.

The advent of the Sunday supermarket, the super-drug store, and giant discount emporiums in suburbs and along major highways brought vigorous complaints from downtown business interests, along with demands for enforcement of Sunday closing laws.

3 Russ Soldiers Are Expected Here

Three Russian soldiers are among those expected to be here for Memorial Day services Tuesday.

The three are Russian war veterans who are joined with a group of American war veterans seeking to secure peace by keeping friendly contacts between the two armies which fought as allies in World War II.

In the group are Sergi Ferguevich Smirnov, 45, a former lieutenant colonel who won the highest decoration for bravery given by the Russian army; Konstantin Ivanovich Serob, 53, also a retired Russian army colonel, who fought at Stalingrad, and Vladimir Nikolayevich Smirnov, 31, a former Russian army sergeant.

Their trip here is sponsored by "Arms of Friendship," a group of U. S. war veterans headed by retired Maj. Gen. Bryan L. Milburn, of Philadelphia.

Ernest Brown Is Bicycle Winner

Ernest Brown, Gettysburg R. 1, was winner of the bicycle awarded Saturday afternoon during the bicycle rodeo held by the Gettysburg Optimist Club and Black Walnut Boy Scout District at the Keetaver School parking area.

Among those who received awards for bicycle riding skill by age group were John Ziegler, 25 Steinwehr Ave., 13-year-olds; Randolph Rohrbaugh, 267 Highland Ave., 11-year-olds; Rebecca Ann Riley, 306 N. Stratton St., 10-year-olds; Stanley Rogers Jr., 202 Ridge Ave., nine-year-olds; Robert Straub, 304 Baltimore St., eight-year-olds; Michael Diehl, 614 High Ave., seven-year-olds; David Strausbaugh, 27 Breckenridge St., six-year-olds, and Tommy Crouse, Gettysburg R. 6, five-year-olds.

Those conducting the contest were Edward Carbaugh, Ned Crouse, Melvin Crouse and Richard Cline of the Optimist Club and Stanley C. Rogers, Dr. Joseph H. Riley and Frank Linn of the Scouts. Mrs. Richard Cline served as registrar and Jay Brown tabulated the scores.

Sharp blasts of wind during the cold afternoon made the contest difficult for the youngsters who frequently found that the wind blew them off course.

3 Drivers Charged With Violations

State police from the Gettysburg substation, patrolling the highways over the long holiday weekend in an effort to hold down the holiday accident toll, filed charges against three drivers before Justice of the Peace John O. Whitman, Cumberland Twp., on charges of motor violations.

SUED ABOUT PASTURE

Winston J. Garrett, New Oxford R. 2, has filed an action in assumpsit in the county courts against Russell Rohrbaugh, Gettysburg R. 2.

According to papers filed in the prothonotary's office for Garrett by Attorney Gerald R. Walmer, Garrett claims Rohrbaugh paid him only $200 of an agreed $300 to pasture 29 head of Rohrbaugh's cattle in Garrett's 40-acre field from May to November of last year. Garrett also asks $90 more than the $100 because, he claims, Rohrbaugh put nine additional head of cattle in the pasture without his permission.

Good Weather Memorial Day

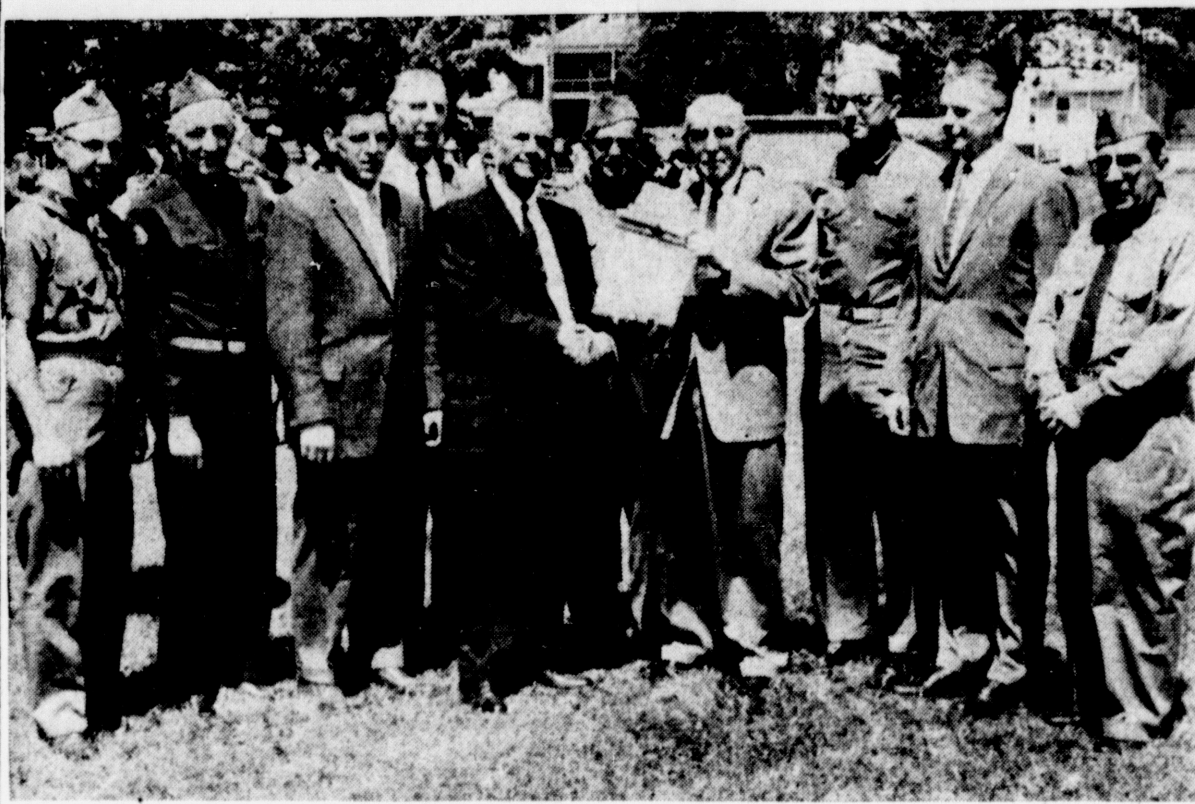

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pleasant spring weather is in the cards for most of the nation Memorial Day, the Weather Bureau says.

It issued this holiday outlook: "A continuation of current pleasant spring weather is in store for most of the nation this coming Tuesday, Memorial Day. Widely scattered afternoon or evening thundershowers are forecast for Florida, in the vicinity of the Rockies and over portions of the Southern Plains. Otherwise, generally fair skies will be the rule with temperatures near seasonal normals and on the mild-to-warm side except for being somewhat cool in the Pacific Northwest."

MEMORIAL SERVICE

The York Springs Rebekah Lodge will entertain the Past Grand Association of Adams County Thursday evening at the IOOF hall, Chambersburg St. There will be a memorial service for the deceased members of the Rebekahs and Odd Fellows.

About 117 young people from the United States and 125 foreign youths will take part in the 1961 International Farm Youth Exchange program.

"Liberty is not to be taken lightly because it has been an achievement at the greatest sacrifice possible; we must be continuously on our guard lest we fall into a state of complacency and slowly but gradually, we lose our individual liberties."

Hawbaker admonished his audience to be thrifty, industrious and self-reliant. He said many people feel "the government owes them something, but they actually owe the government a life of service."

Sons Of Veterans

Memorial Day was not only started by the Grand Army of the Republic, but was its most cherished observance. Chester S. Shriver, Pennsylvania Department secretary of the Sons of Union Veterans, said Sunday afternoon at annual GAR Memorial service held by the Sons of Union Veterans at the GAR Hall, E. Middle St.

"Today the five allied orders of the GAR, carrying on the tradition of the GAR, owe it to their forefathers to see that Memorial Day remains primarily a tribute to those who have died for their country."

Shriver was one of several speakers at the program during which the ritual of the Grand Army to memorialize its members was repeated by the SUV. For the GAR service Dr. Joseph H. Riley took the part of the commander; Paul Snyder was adjutant and Shriver, chaplain. Mrs. Dora Mae Pyles was the pianist and the drum roll was provided by William T. Timmins Jr. and William T. Timmins III.

Pennsylvania Department SUV Commander O. G. MacPherson recalled activities of the Grand Army of the Republic members he had known as a member of the SUV over more than 50 years. John Stark, patriotic instructor, spoke of the urgency of "developing the most beautiful ceremonies we can to instill in youth and adult alike a patriotic fervor equal to that of the GAR."

Dr. Riley spoke of the need to "continue this program yearly as a link to the Grand Army."

All of the allied orders of the Grand Army were represented at the program.

Bendersville

Rev. William E. Swoope, pastor of the Zion Lutheran Church, Lebanon, was guest speaker at the annual Memorial Day services held Saturday afternoon in Bendersville. He spoke of the individual's responsibility in society. Noting the development of the Constitution, Rev. Mr. Swoope cited "our responsibility," scored selfishness and forgetfulness "of the things we have inherited from the past." He stressed the "rights and duties" of an individual in relation to his way of life.

Rev. Swoope is a retired colonel in the Chaplain's Army Corps, having seen service in World War I and II. He was introduced by Rev. Dr. O. D. Coble.

The parade started at 3 p.m. with the following units participating: The Biglerville High School band, American Legion, Sunday School children, Boy and Girl Scout troops.

"Lincoln's Gettysburg Address" was recited by Rev. Norman L. Marden and Paul Crum was master of ceremonies. The invocation and benediction were given by Rev. Calvin H. Cole. Luther Lobaugh, Leroy Routsong and Roy Starner were in charge of the program.

Arendtsville

"This do in remembrance of Me. We will find the answer to win the Prince of Peace in the way to peace. It is not easy, not impossible and God knows it is necessary." Rev. Norman L. Marden, pastor of the Wenksville Methodist Church, told about 250 persons attending Memorial Day services at the Greenmount Cemetery Sunday afternoon.

Rev. Marden's topic was "100 Years After." He recalled the Civil War beginning 100 years ago, noting that "we observe while some people actually celebrate." He looked back on Valley Forge, Gettysburg, the Argonne, the Pacific. "We feel the loneliness of the burial grounds but will they remember after 100 years?" he asked.

"One hundred years after may God guide us in ways of peace so that this may be the beginning of hope."

The parade formed in front of the post office and marched to the cemetery. Luther M. Lady was master of ceremonies. Rev. Maynard S. Barnhart gave the invocation and Rev. Nevin R. Frantz the benediction.

The Biglerville High School band, which led the parade, played several selections. Other units in the parade were the Girl Cub and Boy Scouts, children of the local churches and the Ira E. Lady American Legion post of Biglerville. Melvin Trone recited "Flanders Field" and Philip Houck recited "Lincoln's Gettysburg Address."

Wenksville

"There is one great hope for peace that we have never tried. That is loving our enemy." Rev. W. E. Fenstermaker, pastor of the Methodist Church, told more than 300 people at the annual Wenksville Memorial Day services held near the Wenksville Methodist Church Saturday afternoon.

Rev. Fenstermaker's theme was from a war memorial at an Edinboro, Scotland, castle: "They shall grow not old, as we that are left grow old; age shall not weary them nor the years harden. At the going down of the sun and in the morning, we will remember them."

He told of his experiences he had during the war as a chaplain, seeing the wounded being brought in off the battlefield. He related the unity of nationalities at a time of crisis.

"Lincoln's Gettysburg Address" was recited by Donald Sell and state Apple Blossom Queen E. Jane Coble presented "Flanders Field."

The firing squad of the Ira E. Lady American Legion post of Biglerville presented the colors and the Biglerville High School Band rendered several numbers. Donald Wenk was master of ceremonies and Rev. Norman Marden gave the invocation while Rev. Dr. Oliver Coble pronounced the benediction.

Fairfield

Col. Jacob M. Sheads, Gettysburg High School history instructor, spoke on Memorial Day and how it is observed in the North and in the South at the annual Memorial Day services in the Fairfield Union Cemetery Sunday afternoon.

Shheads noted that Adams County has always been outstanding in patriotism and he sketched briefly Adams County history in past wars.

Stuart Sites Jr. was master of ceremonies. After Rev. Robert Paden gave the invocation, the Senior Girls' Ensemble of Fairfield High School sang a selection and Anthony R. Delzangar recited "Lincoln's Gettysburg Address."

Rev. Edwin W. Coddington pronounced the benediction. The Fairfield High School Band played several selections and the Charles J. Gilliam Amvets Post fired a volley. Taps were played by Carson Lowe and Thomas Kittinger. Members of the committee were Joseph Lowe, Stuart Sites Jr., Raymond Miller, Frank M. Moore and Mrs. Clarence Wilson.

Mt. Joy Church

"Throughout the world, wherever the U.S. flag flies, people will pause Tuesday to do honor to those who gave their lives to establish and preserve the United States." James B. Myers, superintendent of the Gettysburg National Park, said Sunday morning at the annual Memorial services at Mt. Joy Lutheran Cemetery.

He spoke at a service in the church following the GAR ritual services held by the Sons of Union Veterans in the cemetery adjoining the church.

ing the church.

"From the lonely outposts of the DEW line in the arctic, to the great bowl at Pearl Harbor where lie the men who died in the Pacific for our nation, to the most distant stretches of sea where our Navy is deployed and even under the seas in our submarines, men who constitute today the shield between the free world and the slave world will pause to join with us in honoring those who defended America in the past."

"On this Memorial Day we should remember not only those who fought for America, but those who continue to be the shield of freedom and recall that only as long as we and that shield remain strong can the American way of life be preserved."

He added, "Today, perhaps for the first time, due to the deterrence of the terrible power for destruction that was unleashed at the end of World War II, there is hope that there may come a day when we need dedicate no more cemeteries for those who died for our country."

Hunterstown

The importance of remembering was emphasized in a memorial address by Attorney John A. MacPhail of Gettysburg Saturday evening in the Great Conewago Presbyterian Church at Hunterstown after school children had decorated graves of war dead on the old burial ground.

"One of our great human frailties is failing to remember," the speaker said. "In this space age it is often not popular to look backward. We have our univacs to forecast the future and analyze the present but there is no device to recall the past but our own minds in thoughtful diligence and alone. For a moment let us remember the past and forget the present and future — remember and drink deeply of the courage and valor and the basic greatness of the glorious past of our great nation."

The exercises followed a procession from the town, led by the Gettysburg Junior High School band and including Sunday School children, a Sons of Union Veterans unit from Gettysburg under command of Chester Shriver, and members of the Hunterstown Ruritan Club. After the strewing of the flowers while the band played "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," a tribute to the Revolutionary war dead was given by Miss Demaree Deardorff, of Gettysburg, who then placed an armful of flowers by a DAR memorial in the cemetery.

The Rev. Amos D. Meyers, Hunterstown Methodist pastor, gave the invocation and Fred G. Pfeiffer, Gettysburg, gave Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. After a band selection directed by Robert Zeigler, the speaker was introduced by Hugh C. McIlhenny, who was presiding. The program closed with the singing of "America" accompanied by the band and the benediction by the Rev. Mr. Meyers. Early in the program the Sons of Veterans Memorial ritual was conducted with a color guard firing three volleys over the graves and a bugler for "taps."

A band concert followed during the evening while the cemetery association conducted a festival in the church chapel.

Strike Threat Is Settled Today

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A dispute between longshoremen and shippers which threatened to close the Port of Philadelphia today has been settled.

Mayor Richardson Dilworth announced the settlement after a 12-hour bargaining session Sunday in his office between representatives of Local 2191 of the International Longshoremen's Association and the Philadelphia Marine Trade Association.

The dispute concerned the deployment of crews unloading the freighter. A crew is composed of 22 men and a foreman, usually split into 11 on deck and 11 in the holds.

Johnny Jordan is in his 10th season as Notre Dame basketball coach.

MORE "RIDERS" ARE EXPECTED TO HEAD SOUTH

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Seventeen more segregation-defying "Freedom Riders" go on trial in city court today amid reports a fifth group would leave soon for Jackson in an attempt to crack the Deep South's "Jim Crow" barriers.

In Forest Park, Pa., the Freedom Riders' chief co-ordinator, Marvin Rich of New York, said a bus trip would be made to Jackson from New Orleans today or Tuesday.

Here in Mississippi's capital city, 22 Freedom Riders convicted on breach of peace charges last Friday, were to be moved to the county farm where they will work their fines off at $3 a day. Five others posted bond earlier and were released.

The 17 newly arrested freedom riders — 13 Negroes and four whites—go on trial on the same charges as the other 27.

Four separate groups of bus riders attempting to desegregate bus terminals through the South have arrived in Jackson since last Wednesday.

NAB 2 BUS LOADS

Two bus loads from Montgomery, Ala., traveling about four hours apart from that riot-torn city, were arrested after entering white waiting rooms and failing to obey police orders to leave.

Sunday two more groups arrived—one from Montgomery and the other from Memphis. Both originally left Nashville late Saturday.

The Memphis-to-New Orleans bus group—seven Negroes and two whites—were arrested during the morning. Eight more—six Negroes and two whites—were arrested upon arrival in the afternoon. One of the latter contingent did not participate in the desegregation test and was not arrested.

Arrests were made after police

Codirector For Camporee Named

The appointment of Norman Harman and Jack Houseman as co-directors of the summer camporee of the Conewago Boy Scout District at Camp Conewago Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 19 and 20, has been announced by district officials.

Scout staff members also announced the selection of C. Fred Shultz as camp director for the annual family Cub-O-Ree to be held at the camp Sunday, August 27, and disclosed tentative plans for the fall nature course slated for Saturday and Sunday, October 20 and 21.

The annual Catholic retreat of the York-Adams Area Council will be held at Camp Conewago Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 16, 17 and 18.

Francis Redding has been named chairman of a committee to plan for an outdoor meeting of the district committee at Camp Conewago Thursday, June 15. Herman Wherley was recently chosen a member of the district committee at large and will serve on the camping and activities unit.

Capt. J. L. Ray told them "you'll have to move on," and they did not budge.

In Montgomery, scene of blood rioting on May 20, the Freedom Riders used white rest room facilities and attempted to use the lunchroom facilities, both white and black, but they were closed. No attempts were made to arrest them.

Eleven integrationists were arrested at the same bus station last Thursday when they sat at a white lunch counter.

The martial law proclaimed by Alabama Gov. John Patterson eight days ago for Montgomery may be on its way out. State Adj. Gen. Henry V. Graham said Sunday night the law probably will be lifted "in a few days."

Switzerland's famous Matterhorn was first climbed in 1865. But the British-led expedition ended tragically when three members of the party fell to their deaths during the descent.

500 ATTEND SQUARE DANCE

More than 500 dancers attended the annual square dance roundup held in the Student Union Building at Gettysburg College Saturday. The affair was sponsored by the Gettysburg sub-league of the Woman's League of Gettysburg College.

In addition to the dancers, there were approximately 150 spectators. A ham dinner was served in the college dining hall to more than 150.

A vote of applause was given to the sub-league and the Cannonaders, local square dance group, who were hosts for the dance.

Milt Neidlinger, caller, was master of ceremonies. The round dances were held in a separate room and the square dancing was held in the large ballroom.

One of the features of the evening was a round dance calling and demonstration by Dottie and Jules Billard, of Bethesda, Md. During the intermission, round and square dance units from Hagerstown and Chambersburg presented an exhibition.

Predicts U. S. Will Be First To Moon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will beat the Soviet Union in a race to the moon, says the chief of the nation's space agency.

The space administrator, James E. Webb, made the prediction Sunday and added that the next U.S. manned space trip—a sub-orbital flight—is scheduled for late June or early July.

Webb's deputy, Dr. Hugh Dryden, would not fix a date for the moon expedition. He said only it would come sometime within the next decade.

Last Thursday, National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials said at news conference the lunar flight might come off as early as 1967.

Webb and Dryden expressed their views in a television interview on NBC—"Meet the Press."

Dandelions vanish, grass grows greener

Nothing can do more to turn a self-respecting lawn into a shambles than a bumper crop of dandelions like we're having right now.

BONUS® makes short work of these persistent pests. Knocks out other ugly weeds, too—like plantain, buckhorn.

At the same time, BONUS feeds grass a steady, protein-building diet. Result? Greener, thicker, stronger turf, unmarred by weeds.

Nice work for just half an hour. But that's all it takes to treat 5000 sq ft with double-duty BONUS and the precise Scott's Spreader.

The time for BONUS is now!

Out Of The Past

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Major Anderson: "I have only tried to follow the thoughts that I think God put into my heart."

Such was the noble expression of Maj. Anderson to a committee of reception that waited on him during his recent visit to Philadelphia. The sentiment is worthy of an American soldier and a Christian gentleman. If he meant what he then said, there is no doubting his patriotism, because the man who endeavors to follow the thoughts with which God imbues his heart will never be guilty of a wrong, and can never fail either in the service of his country or his God. If all men would follow such thoughts, war would lose its horror, because there would be no conflict, save a noble emulation and a manly struggle to do good.

Emigrants From The South: Mr. A. N. Russell, of Western New York, was obliged to leave the South very promptly, with his family and that of several others on the 21st of last month. He was residing at Fairfax county, Va. He gives a very interesting account of his travel from that place until he reached Wellsville, N. Y., giving an account of his reception at different points. They all passed through this place. We have not room for the whole article.

Indian Troubles In Nebraska Territory: St. Louis—Ex. Gov. Black, of Nebraska, reports that considerable apprehension exists in the Territory of Indian hostilities during the coming summer. The Sioux and Cheyennes have joined for the purpose of waging war against the Pawnees, which will involve the whites, as the latter tribe are principally within the settlements.

In view of this, and also to afford protection to the frontier forts, the Indian agencies, and the overland emigration, which promises to be unusually large this year, Governor Black strongly urges that a regiment of volunteers be raised and mustered into the United States service, and stationed in different parts of the Territory.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Illustrated Lecture Tonight: Our citizens will have an opportunity tonight to hear Sergeant Wm. D. Holtzworth on the Battle of Gettysburg. He will deliver his illustrated lecture in the Opera House, with a large number of stereoscopic views of monuments and prominent features of the field. The views alone will be worth the price of admission, and what "Billy" doesn't know about the battle isn't worth knowing.

The Republican State Committee appointed a sub-committee to consider the propositions for a change in the party rules and report to the next State Convention. This sub-committee met at Altoona last week, and adopted the plan submitted by Col. Hastings. The main features of the plan are these: First, the abolition of senatorial delegates; second, the representation to be based upon the Republican vote in each county, in order to give minority counties fair representation; third, this representation to be based upon the official returns of each presidential election; fourth, in congressional and senatorial nominations each county to be represented according to its Republican vote.

Memorial Services: Probably the most imposing of all the memorial services this year were those at Gen. Grant's tomb yesterday. President Cleveland, and distinguished representatives of the GAR, from various parts of the country were present. Gen. Logan delivered the address at in Riverside Park. In and around the tomb of the dead hero was a mass of floral tributes of the most elaborate character. From

INDEPENDENCE

It is within the solitary confines of a man's own self—wholly apart from the crowd—that he is able to set up and wholly garrison his citadel of independence.

Practically all our thinking and acting is colored to some degree or other by the unconscious world of the things that are transpiring in the great crowd, living all about us.

It is as important for an individual to have his declaration of independence as for a nation.

It is solely apart from all confusion and babbling of voices that a man separates his own constructed ideas and builds from them an attitude of independence that is able to make him strong, fearless and unbeatable.

You are what you are, and if you assert it with no uneven voice, the world will accept the fact as final that you are individually independent.

But independence is not stubbornness nor is it careless, unthinking isolation.

Independence is the mastering of all you are, placed side by side with what other people are able to give you—this together with your intention that independence is for you in every thought and action, and a determination on your part to build your little cycle of life among the other little cycles that go to make up the one great cycle of life.

So it is for you to construct from the simplest duties and experiences of every day, the essence of the best that makes for independent action and independent living. If you succeed in this, you need have no worry when the time comes for you to answer the question—"What shall I do next?"

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Your Inward Self."

LIFE'S ROAD

We know not where it leads today;
Our pathway winds along.
So, pluck the roses by the way,
Like us, they'll not forever stay,
And sing a merry song.
Life's road is all before us yet;
The fairest flowers we have not met.We cannot see beyond each bend,
But hand in hand we'll go;
A smile for stranger, foe or friend,
Today may see our journey's end;
'Tis not for us to know.
Where Life's path leads we cannot tell,
But still we know that all is well.One day with rocks our road's beset,
The next on level ground.
We wander hand in hand, and yet
In looking back, we've no regret;
God's wisdom may be seen.
He leads us, sweetheart! You and I
Must ask not where, nor question why.The morning sees us start anew;
The twilight sees us rest;
We know not where we journey to
Each bend conceals the morrow's view,
But all is for the best.
So hand in hand, we'll walk each day,
And pluck the roses by the way.

SECOND NEGRO ADMITS GUILT IN SLAYINGS

PLAINFIELD, N.J. (AP)—Joseph Maxey, who had steadfastly denied participating in the rape-slayings of two prominent women broke down Sunday and confessed—corroborating the story given earlier by his partner in the brutal crime.

Maxey, 23, and Lorelle Parks, 22, both Negro car-washers who have been charged with abduction, rape and murder, were to have a preliminary hearing today in Plainfield Municipal Court.

In his confession, Maxey admitted he had killed Mrs. Elliott C. Ewell, 49, of Plainfield, by running over her with her own Cadillac when she attempted to escape.

Parks admitted Friday night that he had strangled Mrs. Robert Tyson, 50, also of Plainfield, after raping her. He had implicated Maxey but Maxey repeatedly denied the accusations despite the mounds of evidence gathered by detectives.

Parks and Maxey underwent psychiatric examinations Sunday for several hours.

A memorial service was conducted for the two victims at St. Paul's Episcopal church in Westfield. About 300 persons attended the service, including the husbands and families of the slain women.

Eisenhowers Are Honored By Cadets

WAYNE, Pa. (AP)—"I hope I haven't kept you gentlemen from your dates too long," said the visitor to the cadet captain.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower spoke the words Sunday following a regimental parade of 1,000 cadets at the Valley Forge Military Academy honoring him and Mrs. Eisenhower.

The Eisenhowers were weekend guests at the Academy.

Eisenhower will speak in Washington Thursday at a Republican fund-raising dinner.

SEEKS MORE AID

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Lt. Gen. Chang Do-young, South Korea's new military premier, said today he intended to seek more economic aid from the United States, whose embassy here criticized his seizure of power.

At a news conference, he also expressed belief friendly ties between his military government and the United States would be strengthened.

In Scandinavian mythology, Iduna was the guardian of the golden apples which the gods tasted as often as they wanted to retain their youth.

Sight Wreckage Of Plane Crash

ELLENVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—An unidentified airplane wreck was spotted this morning in the mountains near here.

The Federal Aviation Authority had issued an overdue warning for a single engine Piper cub that left Boston bound for Lock Haven, Pa. piloted by a Dan Piper.

Piper was not identified immediately.

The authority also sent out a crash alert to this area after a pilot reported seeing a fire in the Otisville area of Orange County Sunday night.

State Police started a ground search in the Cragmore section of Ellenville. The search was led by Anthony Barone, owner of the Wurtsboro Airport who spotted a crashed plane from the air.

The F.A.A. reorted the Piper left Boston at 6:30 P. M. (EDT) and was last heard from at 7:34 P. M. at Worcester, Mass.

ACCUSE COPS OF PERMITTING MOB VIOLENCE

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Police in racially troubled Montgomery and Birmingham were called into federal court today, accused of deliberately permitting mob violence.

No criminal charge was pending against them; only a Justice Department demand for an injunction to prevent them from allowing race rioters to interfere with interstate bus travel.

A similar restraining order was issued by U. S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. nine days ago against the Ku Klux Klan. Johnson was to determine at the hearing whether to keep that court order in force.

Added to the original complaint as defendants were Police Commissioner L. B. Sullivan and Chief G. J. Ruppenthal in Montgomery and Commissioner Eugene Connor and Chief Jamie Moore of Birmingham. Connor is Alabama's Democratic national committeeman.

ASK INJUNCTION

The Justice Department also asked for an injunction against a former Montgomery reserve policeman, Claude V. Henley, whom it identified as one of the ring-leaders of the mob here.

Henley has been charged with assault and battery for the beating of two television newsmen.

"Freedom Riders" arriving by bus in Birmingham on May 14 and at Montgomery six days later were set upon by howling mobs of white men and women, and a bus was burned near Anniston, Ala., on May 14.

At least 20 victims—some of them bystanders—were left beaten and clubbed at the Greyhound bus terminal in Montgomery at the outset of a weekend of rioting which ultimately brought martial law.

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—A young U.S. Army sergeant's wife strangled her three children and then slashed her throat, Greek police said today.

Joann Baker, 28, of Stockdale, Texas, is in critical condition at the U.S. base hospital, police said.

Mrs. Baker was found by her husband, Joel, when he returned to his Kalamaki villa home early Sunday.

Baker's home is Route 2, China Grove, N.C.

U. S. TO HONOR SOLDIER DEAD ON TUESDAY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The nation will honor its dead of all its wars Tuesday.

The Memorial Day ceremonies will vary from region to region, but there will be a oneness of prideful gratitude to those who gave their lives for the ideals prayerfully endowed with permanency in 1776.

In the Arlington, Va., National Cemetery, troops of the 1st Battle Group, 3rd Infantry, will place American flags on all 109,000 of the graves.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., will represent President Kennedy in placing the Presidential wreath on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at the cemetery.

TEXANS ELECT REPUBLICAN U. S. SENATOR

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK
DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The victory of John G. Tower, the first Republican senator to be elected by Texas voters, today left gleeful GOP workers thankful they rang so many doorbells and Democrats wondering what went wrong.

Tower, 35, a former college professor, won Saturday's special U.S. Senate race by 8,000 votes over William A. Blakley, a Democrat who holds the Senate seat on an interim appointment.

He had 444,815 votes or 50.45 per cent of the 881,630 votes counted to Blakley's 436,815. Approximately 7,600 votes—not enough to change the outcome—were yet to be reported.

When Lyndon B. Johnson, who had campaigned successfully both for the vice presidency and for reelection as senator in November, resigned his Senate seat early this year, Tower was one of the first to announce for the special April 4 election.

Pitt To Give Five Honorary Degrees

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The University of Pittsburgh will present honorary doctor's degrees to five men on June 10 at its Commencement Convocation.

They are: Elvis J. Stahr, secretary of the Army; Max Abramowitz, deputy director of the United Nations Headquarters Planning Office; the Rev. Eugene C. PRESIDENT IS PREPARING FOR TALKS ABROAD

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy turned 44 today in the seclusion of his family reservation on the chilly south shore of Cape Cod. He put in more homework on his crucial meetings with French President Charles de Gaulle and Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

The youngest president ever elected to the office boned up on this week's European conferences while anticipating a giant birthday celebration in Boston tonight with personal and political friends.

But the mood of the occasion was deadly serious. White House press secretary Pierre Salinger reported the chief executive remained on the grounds of the Kennedy compound of homes Sunday except for a drive to Mass in nearby Hyannis.

STUDIES DOCUMENT

While a spanking westerly churned up whitecaps on Nantucket Sound, Kennedy stayed in the beachfront home of his father poring over documents relating to his sessions with De Gaulle in Paris and Khrushchev in Vienna.

The President flies to Paris Tuesday night after Mrs. Kennedy joins him in New York. Birthday wishes loaded the wires in this summer resort. Kennedy was chipper and smiling as he acknowledged shouts of "happy birthday" on leaving St. Francis Xavier Roman Catholic church. Hundreds of worshippers filled the white frame church and hundreds more flocked to the streets outside.

His only answer was a chuckle when asked if—after four months in the world's hardest job—he felt older than 44.

Dr. Janet Travell, the White

House physician, had a very proper answer to the same inquiry. "I believe he feels as if he is 44," she said.

Kennedy was expected to speak off the cuff—but to say something of this country's position going into the conference with Khrushchev—in his Boston speech. Democrats hope to raise $500,000 from the $100-a-plate banquet in Boston's Commonwealth Armory.

Members of Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 70 will hold a court of awards Wednesday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock at Trinity United Church of Christ, Mrs. Harry Baker, leader, said five-year pins, second class awards, membership cards, and individual proficiency badges will be awarded at that time. She also urged members of the troop to be present Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, with flowers, at the Meade School to take part in the Memorial Day parade.

COUNTING BIRDS

CONYERS, Ga. (AP)—A monk in the Trappist monastery here has counted 162 species of birds during his bird watching. He reports that about 200 species appear each year in this rural area about 30 miles east of Atlanta and that bird watchers have recorded 460 species either living in or flying over Georgia.

In six years of coaching at LSU, Paul Dietzel's football team shows a 36-23-3 record.

REPORT POLE FLEES TO WEST

LONDON (AP)—Col. Antoni Alster, Poland's vice minister of the interior, was reported today to have fled to the West.
The London Daily Mail said Polish emigre sources in London identified him as the high-ranking Polish official whose defection had been rumored here last week.
Alster, 54, was said to be under questioning now in Washington as "the most important Communist to change allegiance since the war."

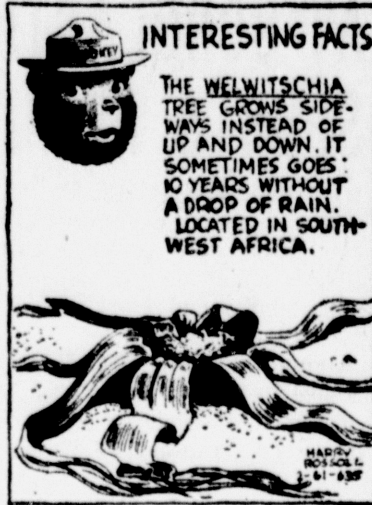

The British Foreign Office declined comment. The U.S. Central Intelligence Agency said in Washington it had no comment.
The Mail said Jewish-born Alster fled 10 weeks ago via Berlin. The Mail said that the defection reportedly caused Soviet Premier Khrushchev to order Jews purged from high positions in the Polish government, a purge now going on.

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The Polish Foreign Ministry described as "pure nonsense" today Western reports that Antoni Alster has fled to the West.

TRAFFIC TOLL IN STATE IS 15

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fifteen persons were killed in accidents in Pennsylvania since the start of the long Memorial Day weekend, including 10 in traffic mishaps and two in a single fire.

The fire occurred early today, destroying the home of David E. Schuchis in Bethel Park near Pittsburgh.

Police said the victims names were unknown, but it is believed they were the father and grandmother of Schuchis.

But the rush was still to come. Safety officials urged extreme caution as thousands take to the roads today.

Since the start of the reporting period at 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Sunday, no fatal boating accidents or drownings had been reported.

MIDNIGHT DEADLINE

The tabulating period ends at midnight Tuesday and will have covered 108 hours. For comparative purposes an Associated Press poll was conducted over a similar period from Friday, May 12 until Tuesday, May 16. During this time, 14 persons were killed in traffic accidents, three drowned and three others died in other mishaps for a total of 20.

One traffic accident alone claimed three lives Saturday when two foreign-made cars collided at an intersection near the Chester County community of Atglen. Four others were hurt.

The dead were Mrs. Violet Sherry, 60, of Prospect Park; her son, William J. Sherry, 32, also of Prospect Park, driver of one car; and Miss Sallie Pert, 18, of Jordon, N. Y., driver of the other car.

THEY GIVE WELL

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP)—The First Infantry Brigade's latest contribution of 715 pints of blood to the Red Cross bloodmobile here has increased its donations in 1961 to 1,044 pints.

The brigade set a record for blood contributions at this infantry center last year.

KATANGA HEAD IS IN NEW CAMP

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Katanga's captive President Moise Tshombe was brought by riverboat to Leopoldville today guarded by some 200 troops. Then he was whisked away to a military camp where his old enemy, Patrice Lumumba, once was held before he was slain.

Tshombe, taken prisoner when he tried to walk out of the Coquilhatville conference of Congolese politicians, smiled faintly as he stepped on to the Leopoldville dock.

He appeared in good health. He waved to the crowd clustering behind rows of armed guards.

The Katanga delegates who had accompanied him to Coquilhatville were taken off to the local jail.

The riverboat which brought them down the Congo River was loaded with Congolese troops of President Joseph Kasavubu's central government.

Tshombe is accused of various crimes of high treason which, if he is found guilty, could carry the death penalty.

Eastern League

Paul Doyle has become the pitching hero of the baseball fans in Springfield, Massachusetts.

And it's no wonder. He's come through every time he's been called on whether in relief or starting assignments.

Doyle, who racked up two victories as a reliever early in the season, broke into the starting rotation May 16 with a five-hit 7-1 victory over Lancaster. He followed with a four-hit 1-0 whitewash of Williamsport May 21. Sunday the little southpaw turned in his fifth straight victory for Springfield with a five-hit 8-4 triumph over Binghamton which boosted the Giants' first-place lead to 3 1/2 games over the Trips.

OTHER GAMES

In other games, Reading beat Lancaster 10-9 and Williamsport defeated Johnstown 6-7.

Doyle drove in two runs with a timely single in Springfield's 13-hit attack.

Reading pulled out a close game with a four-run rally off reliever Jim McIntyre (2-1) in the ninth inning. Ray Konkoieski (1-0) was the winner.

Williamsport, usually on the losing end of one-run decisions, had to fight off a last inning drive by Johnstown and relieved Jack Kerrigan did the job to preserve the win for Jack McCracken (1-0).

FORD COPS 500 GOLF FESTIVAL

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—If Doug Ford doesn't love the Indianapolis Motor Speedway golf course, he ought to stop off at a psychiatrist's on the way to deposit $9,000 he won Sunday by beating Arnold Palmer in two extra holes at the $50,000 "500 Festival" open tournament.

This was the one tourney the Tanglewood, Fla., veteran won on last year's tour. It is the only one he has captured this year—with a dry spell of 32 tourneys in between.

He got it by shooting a 12-under-par 280 for 74 holes. "Sure I like this course," Ford said, "I was raised on one like it where you hit short and bounced onto the green."

He had every reason to fold in this tourney. Palmer, in one of his patented finishes, rifled a 30-foot eagle putt on the 18th green for a 66 round and 273 total.

Ford took two putts from the fringe for a tying birdie, a 68 and another 273 total.

They parred the first extra hole and Ford won the second with a 12-foot birdie putt as Palmer missed a 9-footer. Palmer's second was with $4,600.

Gary Player's final round 67 gave him a 274 total, one stroke back of Ford and Palmer.

PTA GIVES $200 FOR NEW BOOKS

A $200 authorization for purchase of books for the Bermudian Springs Joint High School library was granted and officers were elected at a recent meeting of the Bermudian Springs Elementary PTA, York Springs unit, held in the all-purpose room of the elementary building. The unit authorized librarian John Korver to purchase the books as the needs develop.

Mrs. Frank Myers was elected president and spoke briefly. Others elected were vice president, Mrs. Everett Weiser; second vice president, Bennie Fadenrecht; third vice president, Albert Townsend; secretary, Mrs. Randolph Metz; assistant secretary, Melvin Musselman, and treasurer, Jack B. Hershey.

Charles Phillips, principal, spoke on the Iowa Achievement Tests, explaining the difference between per cent and percentile. He said that "the children in the district have made higher averages over the past few years."

The elementary chorus, under the direction of Donald Golden, sang "I Hear America Singing" by Garret and "The Happy Wanderer" by Ehret.

The elementary band, under the direction of Gary Crum, made its first public appearance and played several numbers.

Supervising Principal Rev. Amos D. Meyers announced that on Friday the children will be given a free picnic lunch at the cafeteria. He also said that June 6 will be the last day of school.

Priest To Receive Philosophy Degree

Rev. Fr. David W. Shaum, head of the department of music at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, will receive a Ph.D. degree from Catholic University, Washington, D. C., on Sunday. Most Rev. Patrick A. O'Boyle D.D., archbishop of Washington and chancellor of the university, will preside at the commencement exercises.

The Times inadvertently stated in an early edition last Friday that it was an honorary degree.

Robbery Results In Two Slayings

ELLCOTT CITY, Md. (AP)—A Howard County policeman and a gas station attendant were killed near here early today as the aftermath of a robbery by two gunmen.

The dead officer was Randolph Brightwell, about 30, of Ellicott City. He was married and the father of two small children.

Police said Brightwell was shot several times in the head and chest after he had stopped a car for a traffic violation. They said he apparently had not learned of the robbery-killing at the gas station a few minutes earlier.

There was no immediate identification of the gas station employee.

Two men later were captured at gun point near Catonsville, Md., about 10 miles away, by Baltimore County police. Police there said no charges had been placed, pending further investigation.

Identifies Man Who Killed Her Hubby

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Two men have been identified by a woman as the assailants who allegedly killed her husband to death and then raped her, police report.

Ronald Newby, 27, and Cephus Washington, 22, were charged with murder, rape and robbery in Saturday's attack on James Brewer, 37, and his wife, Horsense, 36. All are Negroes.

Police said they were searching for a third man.

individual that counts. We are reminded of the achievements of Abraham Lincoln who with only a year of formal education, studied law to the extent that he was admitted to the bar and later of course produced such literary masterpieces as his two inaugural addresses and the Gettysburg Address.

"I think we should realize the importance of the everyday tasks that each individual is going to perform in his work. . . . All of these activities from college professor to mechanic, to the clerk in a store, are essential to our civilization. . . . and when the free enterprise system is working without excessive governmental shackles, the importance of each individual's job is assured in contrast to that which prevails under bureaucratic or socialistic systems where each one's job is assigned, sometimes manufactured. Since the United States today has a moderated free enterprise system, this means, that the activities of each one of us—so long as they are honest activities and are diligently pursued—are making a contribution to our over-all civilization. And no matter what our tasks, we should be proud of them.

Distant Relative Of First Lady Dies

VILLEFRANCHE Sur Saone, France (AP)—Miss Danielle Bouvier, 19, a distant relative of Mrs. John F. Kennedy, was killed in an automobile accident today while enroute to Paris to catch a glimpse of the American President's wife.

Miss Bouvier was going to Paris with her father. Their car struck a tree and the girl died on the way to the hospital. Her father was injured.

land of our ancestors."

Attorney Durkan also said: "Not only did the Union officers praise the bravery of the Irish Brigades, but even Lee and Longstreet were moved to say that 'never did men fight so bravely.' The world may have wondered at their valor, but as far as they were concerned their effort was only what they owed their nation."

Rev. Fr. William Sullivan, assistant pastor of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church here, greeting the group on behalf of Gettysburg, urged the Irish group to "be ever vigilant that freedom and faith may be cherished. Twenty-five years ago at a Eucharistic congress in Budapest two million Catholics lined the banks of the river while a barge bearing the Blessed Sacrament passed by. There were 1,000 bishops and uncounted thousands of priests present. Yet less than 25 years later the people of Hungary found their churches closed. The Irishmen who died for our nation in every war since the Revolution died for ideals. They died for us and for the generations to come. Let us pray that their sacrifice shall never have been in vain."

The group came here following a requiem high mass at St. Patrick's Church, Philadelphia. Wreaths were placed at the various monuments by the Sean Lavery dancers garbed in Irish costume.

able level. There is no question, this we must do.

IMPORTANT QUESTION

"The important question that faces our nation is this: 'How much can America afford to spend on this obviously worthwhile activity?' If we would spend on the order of magnitude we would like, many billions of dollars per year for mutual aid, the net gold outflow would be such that our currency would eventually become worthless—and again communism would be the victor. . . .

"We must depend to a large extent upon our elected leaders to advise us but we should do so with an open mind and always in the context of 'what is good for America?' . . . In other words, citizenship requires us to develop our feelings of Americanism in its broadest and most practical sense."

He noted the "unparalleled drama and individual challenge" of today, told the Seniors: "Life, if you stay awake to see it and to live it, will be a stimulating experience indeed," and closed with his congratulations and wishes for success.

TOPS SCHOLASTICALLY

After presentation of the diplomas with Mr. Snowberger announcing the name of each Senior as the diplomas were handed out, the class sang the "Alma Mater." An offering for the AME Zion Church was received, the audience sang the hymn, "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," and the benediction was given by the Rev. R. A. MacAskill, Presbyterian pastor. Then the Seniors marched to the auditorium.

The official commencement program listed these members of the class as being in the top fifth scholastically:

Littlestown HOLD ANNUAL PARADE, RITES THIS EVENING

Littlestown's annual Memorial Day observance will take place this evening. The parade will form at 6:30 o'clock in the vicinity of the high school building, and will move at 6:45 p.m. The line-up will go west on E. Myrtle St. to N. Queen, through the square to S. Queen St., pause at the veterans memorial for brief services, then continue on to Cemetery St. and Mt. Carmel Cemetery.

There will be a service in Mt. Carmel and the memorial address will be given by the Rev. Dr. John E. Metz, pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church. The affair is in charge of the Allied Veterans Council. During the evening, memorial poppies, made by the disabled veterans of America, will be sold by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The Rev. William C. Karns, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, presented a sermon on the subject "Lest We Forget" at the worship service on Sunday morning. The epistle lesson was read from Romans 11:33-36 and the gospel lesson, John 3:1-15. An anthem was sung by the choir, with Mrs. Jay D. Basehoar at the organ. James Duttera, Albert M. Starnier, Kenneth Bortner and Charles H. Boyd served as ushers. The altar flowers were placed in memory of Eugene Kuhn by the family. It was announced that the National Lutheran Home in Washington is collecting used picture cards. The cards should be given to Mrs. Lloyd L. Staveley, who will send them to the Home. The annual Children's Day service will be held on Sunday, June 11, at which time flowers will be appreciated to decorate the church.

UNITED REDEEMER'S

Brief memorial rites respecting those from Redeemer's United Church of Christ who passed away during the past year were conducted during the worship service on Sunday morning. The Rev. Glenn Flinchbaugh, pastor, was in charge and gave the roll call; led the responsive reading; offered the memorial prayer, and there was a congregational hymn. The altar flowers, in memory of departed members, were placed by the Hustlers' Class. A basket of flowers in the chancel was in memory of Mrs. Laura A. Frey.

The Rev. Mr. Flinchbaugh delivered a sermon on the subject "Blessed Are They That Morn," Perry, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Jay R. Crouse. The May bulletins were given by Dewey M. Henry. It was announced that Christine Louey, of the Sunday School, has won first prize in the Mercersburg Synod for the fine essay she submitted in the 9-11 age class of the stewardship contest held recently.

LIST JUNE EVENTS

June events in Redeemer's Church include: Thursday, June 1, 8 p.m. Senior Choir rehearsal. June 5-16, Community Vacation Bible School, Sunday, June 11, 10 a.m., annual Children's Day service that will be combined with the worship service. Saturday, June 17, annual Sunday School picnic at Taneytown Memorial Park. Sunday, June 18, 10:30 a.m., summer preparatory service. Sunday, June 25, 8:30 and 10:30 a.m., Holy Communion services.

The annual Memorial Day service was held in the Adult Department of Redeemer's Sunday School Sunday. The Men's Bible Class, taught by Dr. William W. Seibert, was in charge. The lesson was taught in the entire department by Dr. Seibert, who presided. Prayer was offered by Frank E. Stonesifer. Miss Sylvia Stonesifer sang a solo, accompanied on the piano by her mother, Mrs. George A. Stonesifer.

Mrs. Samuel W. Beck, E. King St., has been received as a resident guest at the Brethren Home, Cross Keys.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

PENN FAMILY

The notes on the Penn family are continued at this time with additional data on John Penn, grandson of the founder, and his first wife, Marie (Cox) Penn.

The death of the unfortunate Marie (Cox) Penn must have been quite a shock to her husband — for he had supposedly for many years believed her to be "no longer in the land of the living" — witness his second marriage to Anne Allen. According to a story handed down in the Fisher family, at whose home the unfortunate woman died, John Penn was "a brokenhearted man" and blamed himself bitterly for the ruin he had brought upon the wife of his youth. Well he might have suffered remorse — Marie (Cox) Penn paid the penalty for her husband's weakness and lack of character. It probably never occurred to John Penn to blame his father, Richard Penn, or his uncle, Thomas Penn, for the tragedy — such things were simply not done in the Penn family. According to a fairly reliable tradition Marie Cox, the wife of John Penn, was buried at the top of a hill overlooking the Susquehanna River — not too far from Fisher's Stone House (now Fisher's Ferry). The exact site is not known for apparently the grave was never marked. Today the story of Marie Cox, the wife of John Penn, is remembered as a bit of Pennsylvania folklore — a sad but nonetheless interesting tale.

John Penn returned to Philadelphia after the death of his wife and again took up his duties as lieutenant-governor of the province. It is interesting to note that after this date he took no more trips through the interior of the colony — one tragedy was enough for him.

Until the Revolutionary movement was well under way John Penn served in his official capacity in the family province. The war dispensed with the whole matter of proprietary rights and control and the authority of John Penn was superseded by the Supreme Executive Council. The end of proprietary government in Pennsylvania may be dated September 26, 1776 — with the last adjournment of the Provincial Assembly.

SHARE OF SETTLEMENT

John Penn appears to have yielded gracefully to the course of events — just as he had always yielded to his family's dictates. He received his share in the settlement made upon the former proprietors in the Act of 1779 which granted to the descendants of Thomas and Richard Penn the retention of all their private estates.

On February 9, 1795, John Penn died in Philadelphia and his body was interred in the chancel of Christ Episcopal Church. No children were born to either his first or second marriage and that branch of the Penn family ended with his death. Anne (Allen) Penn lived until 1813. According to the late Dr. Albert Cook Myers the second Mrs. John Penn never knew of her husband's first marriage — or of the existence of the unfortunate Marie (Cox) Penn. This seems somewhat farfetched — surely she must have known but perhaps preferred to pretend ignorance.

BUSINESS CAREER

Thomas Penn, the autocratic and "social climbing" uncle of John Penn, was the son of William Penn, the founder, and his second wife Hannah Callowhill. He was born on March 9, 1702, at Bristol, England, at the home of his grandfather, Thomas Callowhill, for whom he was named.

About the year 1715 or 1716 he was sent from the home of his parents in Roscombe, Berkshire, to London to enter upon a business career. Apparently he was first in the employ of Michael Russell, mercer, and later a partner in a commercial establishment whose name is unknown.

In 1718 Thomas Penn's father, William Penn, died leaving the proprietary rights (or interests) in Pennsylvania to his widow, Hannah (Callowhill) Penn, as executrix for their four sons. The rights of Hannah Penn in this matter were contested and not actually established until 1727, after she herself and her youngest son, Dennis Penn, had died. The mortgages on the estate, made in the founder's lifetime, were not extinguished until some years later.

DIVIDE PROPRIETORSHIP

The three surviving sons of William and Hannah (Callowhill) Penn divided the proprietorship, half going to the eldest, John Penn, and a quarter each to Thomas and Richard Penn. John Penn died in 1746 — bequeathing his half share to his brother, Thomas Penn. Prior to this date, in 1732, Thomas Penn came to Philadelphia where he managed the proprietary affairs for some nine years. In 1741 he returned to England intending to return, in the near future, to Pennsylvania but he never did so.

Thomas Penn appears to have been a man of energy and ability — astute in business — usually emerging with a profit — quite unlike his Quaker father. Also — unlike his father — was very class conscious and in his own way bettered his family's social position — by his own marriage. On August 22, 1751, when he was some 49 years of age, Thomas Penn was married to Lady Juliana Fermor (born 1729), the daughter of Thomas, the first Earl of Pomfret. Quite a step up for the son of William Penn, the Quaker.

BUYS POGES ESTATE

In 1760 Thomas Penn purchased the well-known estate of Stoke Poges, in Buckinghamshire, which remained in the family for 80 years. Of the eight children of Thomas and Juliana (Fermor) Penn, four died in infancy. The others were Juliana, John, Granville and Sophia Penn. To the heirs of the last named the Penn property, so far as it was not already lost to the family, at last reverted. All other lines descended from William Penn's marriage to Hannah Callowhill became extinct in 1869.

Thomas Penn's Quaker origin did not determine his religious allegiance in later life for, after his marriage, as befitted a landed proprietor he became a member of the Church of England. Perhaps the ghost of Marie (Cox) Penn, herself a devout Quaker, dead no part in the rites and ceremonies of the established church and Thomas Penn was able to elude even the memory of his injustice.

Among other things Thomas Penn must be remembered as the author and originator of the infamous "Walking Purchase," which was one of the events which led directly to the years of border warfare in Pennsylvania.

The notes on the Penn family will be continued in this column next week.

Ridan spelled backwards means Nadir, sire of the two-year-old.

POULTRYMEN
BRACING FOR ROUGH YEAR

By RICHARD L. GRAVES
HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvanians poultrymen are bracing for another rough year in the broiler and egg markets.

The current slaughter of broilers is 20 per cent above last year. Egg production is at a level only slightly lower than the same period in 1960.

Egg prices are running more than 8 per cent below 1960. Broiler prices are running close to the record low set in November of 1959—a nearly disastrous year for the industry.

FEED PRICES UP
The U. S. Agriculture Department's Economic Research Service

ice reported that the major factor keeping egg prices from collapsing is the demand from commercial enterprises that supply both government programs and private customers other than the retail market.

Meanwhile, feed grain prices—a major item of cost in both egg and broiler production—advanced during April, further putting the squeeze on the poultry industry. The prospect is that prices of most feed grains will continue to go up for the next few months.

The problems of poultry—the state's second largest farm industry—have revived discussion concerning the possibility of government support programs.

REJECTED IN PAST
In the past, the nation's poultrymen have rejected moves by government to set up support or subsidy programs for broilers and eggs.

But efforts by the industry itself to keep demand and supply balanced generally have been unsuccessful. The result is a situation in which prices dropped seriously in 1959, came back strong during 1960, and now appear to be heading toward dangerously low levels again.

Part of the problem is marketing, especially of eggs. Price seems to have only a relatively small effect on per capita consumption. Falling prices are not accompanied by comparable increase in purchases.

NEED GREATER DEMAND

For that branch of the poultry industry, the goal would appear to be all-out efforts to stop up per capita consumption. Rising demand for the product would tend to smooth out the annual up and down swings and seems a more desirable way of meeting the cycle problem that curbing production through government marketing quotas or price support plans.

The meat branch of the industry—broiler production—is more complex. In that category, price does have an effect on consumption, but only as related to the prices for other meat commodities.

One noticeable trend has been a relationship between the price of pork and the demand for chicken meat. As pork prices rise, poultry meat consumption increases. The boosted demand tends to push prices upward. Indications are that consumers more and more are substituting poultry for

TO SET HEARING
DATE IN COURT
AS NEXT STEP

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Atty. Ludvick Zupanic says the setting of a hearing date will be the next step in challenging the legality of a $3,000-a-year expense account allotted each state lawmaker.

pork as the low-cost meat on the menu.

NEED CHARTS

Consequently, the aim of the producers could be to capitalize on that trend in their marketing. Also there is a strong need to cultivate consumer demand for other poultry meat products—sausage and the like — which haven't attracted much buyer interest.

As a footnote: Federal meat economists should begin keeping charts including poultry meat situations along with beef, pork and lamb.

Zupanic said Saturday that "our next step will be to ask Commonwealth (Dauphin County) Court to set an immediate date for a hearing."

He represents Gerald T. Wagner, a Glassport steelworker who is questioning the right of Pennsylvania's legislators to vote themselves the expense allowance.

FIRST PLEA REJECTED

Zupanic said he hopes to subpoena several of the legislators so he can question them at the hearing on just where the money goes that they charge against expense accounts.

He said "we hope to show by testimony that the $3,000 allowance is really an increase in pay for the legislators and, therefore, unconstitutional."

Dauphin County Court on Friday rejected Wagner's plea for a preliminary injunction to ban the state from making initial payments of the lawmakers' expense funds.

Zupanic, however, indicated he would not appeal the court's ruling on the injunction petition.

Rev. Francis J. Stauble, C.M., Germantown, Pa., former pastor of St. Joseph's Church, is visiting at the rectory.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Flitz and family have moved from the residence of Mrs. Marie Saffer, De Paul St. to their home on the Irishtown Rd.

Graduation exercises of St. Joseph's High School will be held Sunday evening, June 11, at 7:30 o'clock in the school auditorium.

Sixty-one members of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary of St. Joseph's parish attended the annual banquet Tuesday evening in the Greenmount fire hall.

The Eighth Grade girls of Mother Seton School were received into the Children of Mary Society in St. Joseph's Church Tuesday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James Twomey, pastor, and Rev. Fr. Trainer, who spoke briefly. Following the ceremonies, the Eighth Grade students were guests of honor at a party given by the high school students on the lawn in the rear of the school.

Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 72 met Tuesday evening with leaders, Mrs. Ralph Ohler and Mrs. Charles Shorb, in the basement of the American Legion home. The meeting presided over by Vice President Lynn Shorb was opened with the flag ceremony with Dale Elder, Connie Seiss, Sharon Ohler and Kathy Rodgers participating. Each girl signed her a get-well card which was sent to a girl who has been hospitalized for several months. The proceeds of the food sale June 24 will be used to finance a bus trip to Harpers Ferry. Badge work and second class rank requirements were worked on.

Stamp News

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Some 10 million American investors are just pursuing a hobby. It's that pastime of both the young and the old, stamp collecting.

Perhaps an additional million take a real investor's view. Well chosen stamps have a record of greater yields over the years than most deals in the stock market, are a tried hedge against inflation, enjoy an international market and are a ready source of funds in a crisis.

The stamp collecting world currently is being deluged with new issues. Many are from the fledgling nations emerging so rapidly and some are aimed more or less frankly at raising revenue from the growing number of collectors in the world.

STRIKING INCREASES
Some of the price increases since World War II have been striking. A U.S. airmail stamp collection bringing $102.81 in 1945 is listed in the 1960 Scott Catalogue, published by Esquire, Inc., as $282.63.

Price rises of as much as 1,400 per cent are recorded in the list. But like all investments, some are mavericks. And a few have declined in value, the biggest drop noted being 63 per cent. The sudden appearance on the market of a previously unknown supply can do the trick.

Recent stamp auctions here have brought out some high-flying bidding. A rare black Honduras stamp for which the collector paid $11,000 in 1956 brought him $24,000 this year. And a one cent American stamp issued in 1901 for the Pan-American Exposition went under the hammer for $1,200—one reason for its value was that the picture of a ship in the center was printed upside down.

Stamp specialists say one copy each of the world's really great rare stamps—a nonexistent collection—could be carried in a wallet but would be valued at $500,000 at the lowest estimate.

Most collectors are out simply for the enjoyment of collecting and take a dim view of treating stamps primarily as an investment. But the big rise in prices since the war has caught the eye of investors.

And World War II experiences taught some a lesson. Many refugees were able to take with them stamp collections, relatively compact and easy to transport. They found a ready market for them to help start life anew in their new homes.

With an international market, stamp prices are fairly stable over the short term, and there are few if any import or export duties on them.

Many stamps are commemorative of special events or of their anniversaries. A deluge of these in recent years has kept the serious stamp collector busy.

In 1930, Bill Terry collected 254 hits for the New York Giants. He hit .401 that season and is the last National Leaguer to reach that charmed figure.

DUTCHMEN IN HOLLAND LIVE LONGER

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:
There are still six million U.S. homes that don't have a television set. Even so, there are more homes that have TV than have bathtubs.
Looking for a long life? Then go to tiny Holland, which now is the country with the longest life expectancy at birth: 70.6 years for men, 72.9 for women.
SAFETY SLOGAN
Memorable safety slogan at a railroad crossing: "Better wait than never."
Speed-up in the forest: Scientists hope that by bombarding seeds with radio-active cobalt the will be getting timber in 25 years from trees that now take up to 150 years to mature.
It is said—but can't be proved—that Emperor Charlemagne invented the pretzel.
Our quotable notables: "Folks that blurt out just what they think wouldn't be so bad if they thought."—Kim Hubbard.

Insects can be deadly: The U.S. Office of Vital Statistics reports that over a period of several years 85 persons died from the stings of bees, wasps and hornets, only 71 from poisonous snake bites.
Geographical oddity: Virginia extends farther west than West Virginia.
White House huffs: Three retiring U.S. presidents refused to attend the inauguration of their successors. They were John Adams, his son, John Quincy Adams, and Andrew Johnson.
MORE FUSS BY HENS
Cheap exercise: Singer Johnny Mathis, a champion high jumper in college, now keeps in condition by running up and down stairs.
What's in a name?: The full name of the piano is "gravicembalo col piano forte." It's almost easier to learn to play than pronounce.
FILE AND FORGET
Why do hens brag so much about laying one little old egg a day? A 7-pound codfish can produce 7 million eggs at a time.
Gag of the week: Walter Slezak tells of the Greenwich Village beatnik who just redecorated his apartment. He painted his bongo drums!

STAMINA AND A LITTLE NIP

CANOGA PARK, Calif. (AP)—When two thugs waved razors at him and demanded his money Ryrus C. Davis, 92 years old, fought them for it.
He had exactly $2. They took it—and left him for dead in an alley, his throat cut in four places. Davis lay there, bleeding, for five hours. Then his son, Billy, a policeman, found him. He had been searching for the missing man for hours.
Doctors took 54 stitches in the wounds. They said he had lost perhaps five pints of blood. They held little hope for his recovery.
That was six days ago. Today Davis is home, sitting up and grieving—mostly because doctors won't let him smoke his old quota of three cigars a day.
How did he do it?
"Stamina," said Davis. "A life of hard work. And a little nip now and then."
Doctors have also cut out the nips. But they've promised to let him celebrate just a little on June 19—his 93rd birthday.
Information to file and forget: When you pump up a tire to an air pressure of 35 pounds, its weight is increased by only three-tenths of a pound.
What is middle age? Humorist Irvin S. Cobb immortalized it as that period "when you begin to exchange your emotions for symptoms." Has this happened to you?
It was Dr. John Harvey Kellogg who advised, "Eat half as much, sleep twice as much, drink three times as much, laugh four times as much, and you will live to a ripe old age."

Let's Look At The Record

CUBA IN DIPLOMACY
America's Policy Is 150 Years Old
Kennedy Says Story Has Not Ended

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

EVERY DAY, Fidel Castro talks and acts more and more like Adolf Hitler. That Castro justifies his tyranny with Marxist dialectics instead of Fascist slogans, and has adopted full whiskers as his trade mark in lieu of the Hitlerian, abbreviated mustache, should confuse no one. The techniques and purposes of the two men are the same.

Both men proved to be masters of the hours-long, rabble-rousing harangues. Both have demonstrated an artful, diabolical cunning in confusing and creating dissension within the ranks of their adversaries.

TAKE A LONG, discerning look at Castro's most recent, oratorical gambit. Castro would exchange captured Cuban patriots for 500 bulldozers. The 1,200 prisoners would be released "in increasing order of their importance." For an advocate of a classless society, this is a queer approach; but we will skip that.

At the very top level among his prisoners, Castro seems to be thinking of a man-for-man exchange basis, which 100 years ago was a military practice. He would, he says, swap the captured Captain Manuel Artme, commander of the invading freedom forces, for Francisco (the Hook) Molino.

The last named is the pro-Castro brawler who is now awaiting sentence for a second degree murder conviction arising from the death of a 9-year-old Venezuelan girl. In a crowded New York restaurant, Molino took recourse to pistol shots in a quarrel with Castro critics.

In the mythology of Castro's anti-American propaganda, Molino has become a "hero of the revolution." Molino's name has further become a springboard for denunciations of American justice.

Stripped of their rotund phrases, Castro's arguments for Molino boil down to this proposition: The life of the innocent girl is no importance so long as Molino's intent was in behalf of Cuban communism and Castro!

Actually, for the Federal Government to spring a convicted culprit from a state's criminal court, merely to satisfy the diplomatic protests of a foreign government, is most difficult and could be legally impossible. Daniel Webster, as secretary of state, made this discovery 100 years ago when he tried to release a Canadian, accused of murder.

In short, it is a safe bet that the commander of the Cuban invasion force will not be released, with or without American bulldozers. Castro has put a special and perhaps impossible price tag on him.

THE FOREGOING, however, is purely a minor angle to Castro's peculiar offer which is so reminiscent of Nazi Eichman's efforts to exchange Jewish victims for badly needed trucks.

The surprising and successful feature of Castro's bulldozers-for-prisoners proposition, however, is that it tricked a number of prominent and normally responsible American leaders into favorable and emotional responses to Castro's blackmail efforts before our own State Department and administration had opportunity to arrive at a public policy. The creation of emotional and economic pressures upon the responsible officials of adversary nations was the secret of Hitler's amazing successes as an international liar and blackmailer.

For a man as well informed as Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins, to be taken in by the same kind of chatter from a Cuban Hitlerian imitator, is proof positive that some people find it impossible to apply the lessons of history — even though that history be within their own life time!

EXCHANGE OF PRISONERS

has never worked for benefit of mankind as a whole. It was last attempted, on the scale proposed by Castro, in America's Civil War.

It accomplished no more than the prolongation of and the increase in bloodshed and horrors of that great American tragedy. Lincoln and his secretary of war, Stanton, were thoroughly sound in their judgment and humanitarian impulses when they arbitrarily discontinued the practice.

America has never returned to the policy. Other nations have rejected it in favor of the requirement that the captor and holders of war prisoners must give them the same food, clothing and medical treatment that is received by the soldiers of the capturing

KENNEDY IS AROUSED OVER TRACTOR FUSS

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy today was reportedly directing an administration counterattack on critics of the tractor deal to liberate captives of the Cuban refugee invasion.

Kennedy, here for a weekend of rest and study, was understood to have considered that Western Hemisphere problem while leveling primary attention on his European conferences later this government. There is also the requirement that prisoners of war receive mail and Red Cross packages.

AS THIS IS WRITTEN, the State Department has not yet announced an official answer to this latest outburst of Castroian, oratorical blackmail. The best reply, however, would be to tell Castro, that since his proposal has in effect recognized the Cuban freedom fighters as prisoners of war, he must treat them as such within the rules of the Geneva Convention. Otherwise, he and his henchmen may stand trial for war crimes as have others whom he and his henchmen are imitating.

The need of bulldozers for peaceful farming is appealing but spurious. Those Russian built tanks can do everything a bulldozer can do. He can put them to work in the fields to serve the Red economy!

Let Castro disarm and wear out those tanks if his people need food.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Republican leaders in Congress have denounced the proposition of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro to exchange 1,200 prisoners of the invasion attempt for 500 tractors and bulldozers.

They called it blackmail and criticized Kennedy for helping to organize a committee of U.S. citizens to raise the necessary millions and arrange details of the transfer.

There have been signs that Castro may waver on the offer, and one administration objective is to put the Cuban dictator on the spot.

Kennedy has appealed for contributions to pay for the tractors, which would cost an estimated $15 million. The White House also has disclosed that behind the scenes he got three committee members together. But Kennedy also has declared the government itself can play no part in the transaction or fund raising.

COMMITTEE OF THREE

That job was left to the committee, consisting of Eleanor Roosevelt; Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers, and Dr. Milton Eisenhower, brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and president of Johns Hopkins University.

The administration is said to believe the situation is just right to undo any damage in relations with other Latin American nations caused by the invasion failure.

Castro apparently thought up the tractor-for-prisoner exchange in hopes of building his own prestige while hurting the United States in the eyes of Latin America.

CATHOLICS TO MAKE REPORTS ABOUT DRIVE

Rev. Dr. John E. Metz, pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church, announced that the financial campaign for the parish plant renewal program would begin on Sunday and continue until Wednesday, at the Masses Sunday. On Wednesday, all committee members, from the general chairman, to, through and including the team members, are asked to be present at a report meeting at 8 p.m. in the parish hall. Depending on the amount of financial help pledged, it will then be decided if the renewal program will go into effect.

Masses in St. Aloysius Church this week will begin at 8:15 a.m., except Tuesday and Saturday, when Mass will begin at 7:30 a.m. Thursday is the Feast of Corpus Christi. According to custom, next Sunday, the Sunday within the octave of Corpus Christi, there will be a procession at Sylvan Heights Home, Harrisburg, with solemn benediction following, and all parishioners are invited to attend. Friday is the First Friday of the month and there will be Holy Communion distributed outside of Mass at 5:45 and 7 a.m. Confessions will be heard on Thursday at 4 and 7 p.m. Mrs. Urban Bedford will be chairman of the refreshment committee for the weekly public party on Saturday at 8 p.m. in the parish hall and Leo S. Riley is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Rev. Dr. Metz baptized two infants on Sunday morning. Jeffrey Allan Crouse, son of Glenn E. and Patricia Kress Crouse, Littlestown R. 1, for whom the baptismal sponsors were the child's maternal great-uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan D. Rickrode, of town, and Lorie Ann Kelly, daughter of Robert and Shirley Bowers Kelly, S. Queen St., whose baptismal sponsors were an uncle, Paul Krichen and the maternal grandmother, Mrs. Constance Bowers. Jeffrey Allan was born May 9 in the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg. ANNIVERSARY FOR FORMER PASTOR JUNE 4

Members and friends of Christ United Church of Christ are invited to attend a service in honor of the 35th anniversary of the ordination of a former pastor, the Rev. John C. Brumbach, on Sunday, June 4, at 11 a.m. in St. John's United Church of Christ, Bangor, Pa. The Women's Guild will serve a luncheon after the service. The Rev. and Mrs. Brumbach and daughter, Audrey Ellen, moved from the community in November, 1960, when he assumed the pastorate of St. John's Church.

Ivan E. Arentz, Howard R. Clapper, Ray F. Slaybaugh and Freddie L. Dutterer served as ushers for the Sunday morning worship service in Christ Church. The sermon was delivered by the pastor, the Rev. G. Howard Koons, and the choir sang the anthem "Praise Ye the Lord." The bulletins were presented by Miss Miriam E. Dutterer in memory of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton G. Dutterer. Bulletin sponsors are asked to contact Lester L. Hilker. The Young Married Couples Class, taught by Harold E. Shoemaker, is sponsoring a Father's Day bulletin. Fathers' names in honor or in memory may be given to any member of the class. Proceeds will be given to the building fund on Rally Day.

Christ Church Choir will rehearse Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. The annual Children's Day service will be held next Sunday at 10:30 a.m. The Primary Department of Christ Church will hold a roast turkey supper for the public on Saturday, June 10, for the benefit of the building fund. Serving will be in the church grove auditorium starting at 4 p.m.

For the community center financial drive on June 12, the Junior Woman's Club will be in charge of door-to-door solicitations on E. King St., from the square to the borough line, both sides of the street, excluding business places. The club solicitors include Miss Janet Phillips, president elect, chairman; Mrs. Donald P. Sell, Miss Betty Eckenrode, Miss Theresa Krichen, Mrs. Joseph McMasters, Miss Nancy Oaster, Mrs. Richard E. Barnes, Mrs. Conrad C. Hull, Mrs. Paul F. Boller Jr. and Mrs. Wilbur M. Sentz. The chairman will contact the committee with details on the drive.

Those from the Woman's Club who attended the 64th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs on Wednesday in Harrisburg were: Mrs. Woodrow D. Crabbs, president; Mrs. Bernard G. Kebil, delegate; Mrs. Paul F. Boller Jr., alternate and Mrs. Edward L. Warner.

CENTENARY NEWS

The Junior Choir sang the anthem "Spacious Skies" at the worship service on Sunday morning in Centenary Methodist Church. The Rev. William R. Jones, pastor, delivered the sermon on the subject "Did We Betray Their Sacrifice?" and read the scriptures from Isaiah 42:1-9 and Romans 13:1-10. The altar flowers were presented by Margaret Souder in memory of her sister, Mary Crouse. It was announced that anyone wishing to purchase one of the upstairs new leaded windows as a memorial or honor should contact the treasurer, Chester S. Byers.

The Centenary Church choir will not rehearse this week. At 2 p.m. next Sunday, members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship will meet at the church for the final meeting of the season. A swimming party and barbecue supper is planned. The annual Children's Day services will be held on Sunday, June 11, at 10:15 a.m. Sunday, June 18, is Conference Sunday and there will be no preaching service, only church school at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, June 25, Holy Communion and installation service at 10:30 a.m.

BACCALAUREATE HELD

The Littlestown High School auditorium was filled to capacity for the annual baccalaureate service on Sunday evening. An appropriate message was delivered to the graduating class and audience by the Rev. George Shultz Jr., pastor of St. Luke's United Church of Christ, near White Hall, on the theme "Life—A Shred, Shroud, or Ship."

The service, which was arranged by the Littlestown Ministerium, was as follows: Prelude; processional by the seniors, juniors and faculty members; invocation, the Rev. William C. Karns, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church; hymn; scripture, the Rev. William R. Jones, pastor of Centenary Methodist Church; prayer, the Rev. Glenn Finchbaugh, pastor of Redeemer's United Church of Christ; music by a girls' ensemble; offering; offertory; hymn; sermon, hymn; benediction, the Rev. G. Howard Koons, pastor of Christ United Church of Christ; recessional; postlude.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

DEATHS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — Maria "Dancing Flower" Fris, 29, prima ballerina of the Hamburg State Opera, plunged to her death Saturday at the scene of some of her greatest triumphs. Police said Miss Fris, who had been depressed over a chronic leg ailment, ended her life with a 59-foot leap from an overhanging gallery to the theater's stage during rehearsals of Romeo and Juliet.

MOUNT VERNON, N.Y. (AP) — J. Van Cleft Cooper, 79, musician and for many years a designer of crossword puzzles for The Associated Press, died Saturday. Cooper, who was an accomplished organist and played in various Broadway theaters during the silent movie era, was born in Damascus, Pa.

"Joke" Entry Is Bowling Winner

BRADFORD, Pa. (AP) — A Erie man entered a bowling tournament here Sunday as more or less a joke, then knocked off the previous leader by 123 pins. Fred Gillespie, 53, came to town with a group of bowlers who were competing in the Pennsylvania Tenpin Bowling tournament. Just for the heck of it, he entered a tournament called the Public Squares Handicap Singles

Sweepers. And what a three games he had. He rolled 256, 266 and 267 for a total of 789. With a handicap of 58, Gillespie ended with a 847 which was 123 pins over the previous leader, Don Rouff of Bradford.

Ken McBride, pitcher with the Los Angeles Angels, pitched a no hit game in 1956 while hurling for Greensboro of the Carolina League.

The 1962 Woman's International Bowling Congress tournament will be held at Phoenix, Ariz.

It cost $10 this winter to have a thoroughbred's hair cut by the Los Angeles Angels, pitched a no hit game in 1956 while hurling for Greensboro of the Carolina League.

2 GENERALS ON TRIAL IN PARIS FOR TREASON

PARIS (AP)—Two French generals, stripped of rank and honors go on trial for their lives today accused of treason for leading last month's unsuccessful military revolt in Algeria.

Maurice Challe, 55, ex-flier who commanded all French forces in Algeria, and Andre Zeller, 63, once the French army chief of staff, face their military and civilian judges in the heavily guarded Palace of Justice just 38 days after they launched the Algiers paratroop revolt in hope of keeping the territory French.

The four-day uprising failed when France rallied behind President Charles de Gaulle and the bulk of French troops in Algeria refused to support the generals.

TWO SURRENDER

Challe and Zeller gave themselves up. Their two companions in the brief military junta—Gen. Raoul Salan and Gen. Edmond Jouhaud—are still at large.

Today's trial is in the same dark-paneled, tapestried courtroom where Marshal Philippe Petain, chief of the Vichy government under the Nazis, was found guilty of treason and condemned to death for his World War II role. De Gaulle spared his life and Petain died in exile on an island.

Both former generals were thought likely to deny reports that they were in touch with other plotters in France to overturn the De Gaulle regime or with the agents of foreign powers.

A dozen collaborators of the two including several generals and colonels, are jailed and awaiting later trial.

Japan is the American farmer's best foreign customer, buying huge quantities annually of raw cotton, soy beans, and barley.

DEATHS

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — Owen (Bert) Brennan, 57, an international vice president of the Teamsters Union and a mentor of the union's president, James R. Hoffa, died Sunday of cancer. Brennan, who with his wife operated the Standard Bred Breeding Farm at Manchester, Mich., was for six years a director of the U.S. Trotting Association.

OLATHE, Kan. (AP) — Norb Garrett, 52, managing editor of the Olathe News, was killed Sunday in a two-car head-on collision in which two other men were killed. Garrett was a former member of the news staff of the Kansas City bureau of The Associated Press.

Kennedy's Support Of Cuban Deal Scored By Republicans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican congressional leaders Friday called President Kennedy's support of the tractors-for-prisoners exchange "another blow to our fast-diminishing world leadership."

"The disastrous handling of the Cuban invasion has caused America to suffer an enormous loss in prestige abroad," the GOP leaders said in a statement.

"But now President Kennedy has compounded that loss by disclosing his official sponsorship of a so-called citizens movement for the American people to make blackmail payments to Fidel Castro."

READ TO NEWSMEN

The statement, approved by a conference of Republican Senate and House leaders, was read to newsmen by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Senate GOP leader.

While a number of Republicans, notably Sen. Homer E. Capehart of Indiana, have kept up a constant attack on Kennedy's support for raising funds to buy 500 tractors to ransom upwards of 1,200 Castro-held invasion prisoners, Friday's action was the first official party attack on it.

Resolutions were introduced in both the House and Senate Thursday aimed at putting Congress on the record against ransom for more than 1,200 rebels captured in the

"And I'm afraid it might be open season on free people around the world," if the program continues, Hagerty said.

Capehart introduced two resolutions against the tractor exchange in the Senate Thursday and Rep. William Jennings Bryan Dorn, D-S.C., offered one in the House.

If passed, none of the resolutions would be binding on the Kennedy administration.

President Kennedy, who helped organize the fund drive, has said he feels contributions should be deductible from income taxes.

TOUGH EXPERIENCE

MANSFIELD, O. (AP) — The philosopher side of Raymond Stiltner's nature got the upper hand when he reported to police that someone had taken two $100 bills from him.

Police questioned several men who denied the theft and finally police informed Stiltner he could file charges if he found out the identity of the thief.

Stiltner replied that he didn't want to file charges, adding: "I'll just chalk it up to experience."

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy — while walking a cautious military path — acknowledged in his talk to Congress the need for a bold dash down the social and economic road around the world.

But he still has to show by performance how far and how fast he intends to go.

His caution on the military side shows up in instances such as these: When Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson returned from Southeast Asia he said, in Kennedy's name, he had promised the backward nations there this country would make "any sacrifices" in the fight against communism.

WON'T SEND TROOPS

But—he said there are no plans to send U.S. troops.

Kennedy could have sent troops into Laos to try to stop the Communist push there, but he didn't. If he had, the Red Chinese undoubtedly would have moved in, thus creating another Korea.

American-backed South Viet Nam is plagued by Communist guerrillas. The United States will help the Vietnamese with military supplies and training and with economic aid. But there has been no public promise American troops will be sent in.

In short: Although Kennedy talked Thursday of increasing and streamlining America's non-nuclear fighting forces, he mentioned no specific place where he intended using them.

ANTI-RED TALK

His whole talk was anti-Communist. It was also non-belligerent, which is perhaps a requirement if his meeting with Premier Khrushchev in Vienna in June is to have any success.

But Kennedy sounded more active, imaginative and determined when he spoke of filling the needs of the masses in the backward countries in order to make communism unnecessary or unattractive.

There has been—so far as this writer knows—no concentrated effort, as a policy, to compel the leaders of the backward nations receiving American help to make sure the masses receive the benefits.

CITE CORRUPTION

In a number of places receiving such help there has been corruption while the gap between the very rich and the very poor was intense and deep.

You might read into Kennedy's words that a continuing effort will be made in the future to see that the needs of the masses are filled. But he didn't say that in so many words.

He did express awareness of the need for such a policy by saying of the worldwide revolution by people seeking independence and a good life:

SEEK A BEGINNING

"They seek an end to injustice, tyranny and exploitation. They seek a beginning—a jungle road to bring a doctor when a child is ill—a schoolhouse to unlock the mysteries of knowledge—seed and fertilizer, jobs and food, a chance to live and be more than just alive. Those are the aims of their revolution."

Then the President did a remarkable thing when it is remembered the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles sought to make the expense of foreign aid palatable to Americans by saying it was being given in "enlightened self-interest."

Kennedy — at least verbally — cast out that philosophy by saying:

LEAVES DOOR OPEN

The revolutions of the backward peoples in search of a fuller life is one "which we would support regardless of the cold war, and regardless of which political or economic route they choose to freedom."

Since he considers communism the negation of freedom, it can be assumed he meant a country choosing communism would be excluded from his wide-ranging promise of help.

But he left the door open for American aid to a variety of social and political systems: demo-

SAYS HOLLAND GIRLS WAIT TO GET MARRIED

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

Holland girls do not get married usually until they are about 22 or 23, says pretty brunette Babs Hek, 18, an official flower girl from Haarlem, the 700-year-old flower city. "And even then they cratic, socialistic, capitalistic, or even strong-man governments.

He added: "Too often we have let ourselves appear as friends of the status quo—and the status quo may be $50 a year."

FACES PROBLEM

But what is he going to do so that America will no longer be the friend of such a status quo? For instance: Will he insist the rich in a Latin-American country getting U.S. aid must divest themselves of enormous land holdings so more of the poor people can own their own land? He didn't say.

This new program of Kennedy's—if he tries to make it a reality in the years ahead—will have to take many forms and need a lot of explaining. He didn't explain it in his talk to Congress.

are lucky if they can set up housekeeping."

Babs is one of 10 girls chosen this year to visit a country to distribute tulips and daffodils, an annual event.

"We have had a housing shortage in Holland since World War II, and married couples often wait for a year or two before they can find a place to live," she explains.

"A friend of mine waited three years. Sometimes they can't get married until they do find the apartment because it is unsatisfactory to live with parents."

FALL OUT OF LOVE

Many young people worried that they would fall out of love while they sought a place to live. So now they marry in a civil ceremony which is required anyway, and begin looking for an apartment. They have the church wedding after they locate the apartment.

The advantage of that system is that "you don't lose your man while you are waiting," she says.

"Dutch girls do not have as many beaux as American girls. We do not have boy friends until we are about 19 or 20. Then we have one real boyfriend, become engaged and then married to him," she says.

They meet the boys at parties—the brothers of their girl friends or family friends.

"When I told people that I was coming to America they warned me about American men saying they were very hard and mercenary. But that is not so. The men here are very nice."

Babs likes American crew hair cuts. She wishes European men would adopt the style. "They wear their hair so long, it looks messy," she says, "and it makes them look older, too."

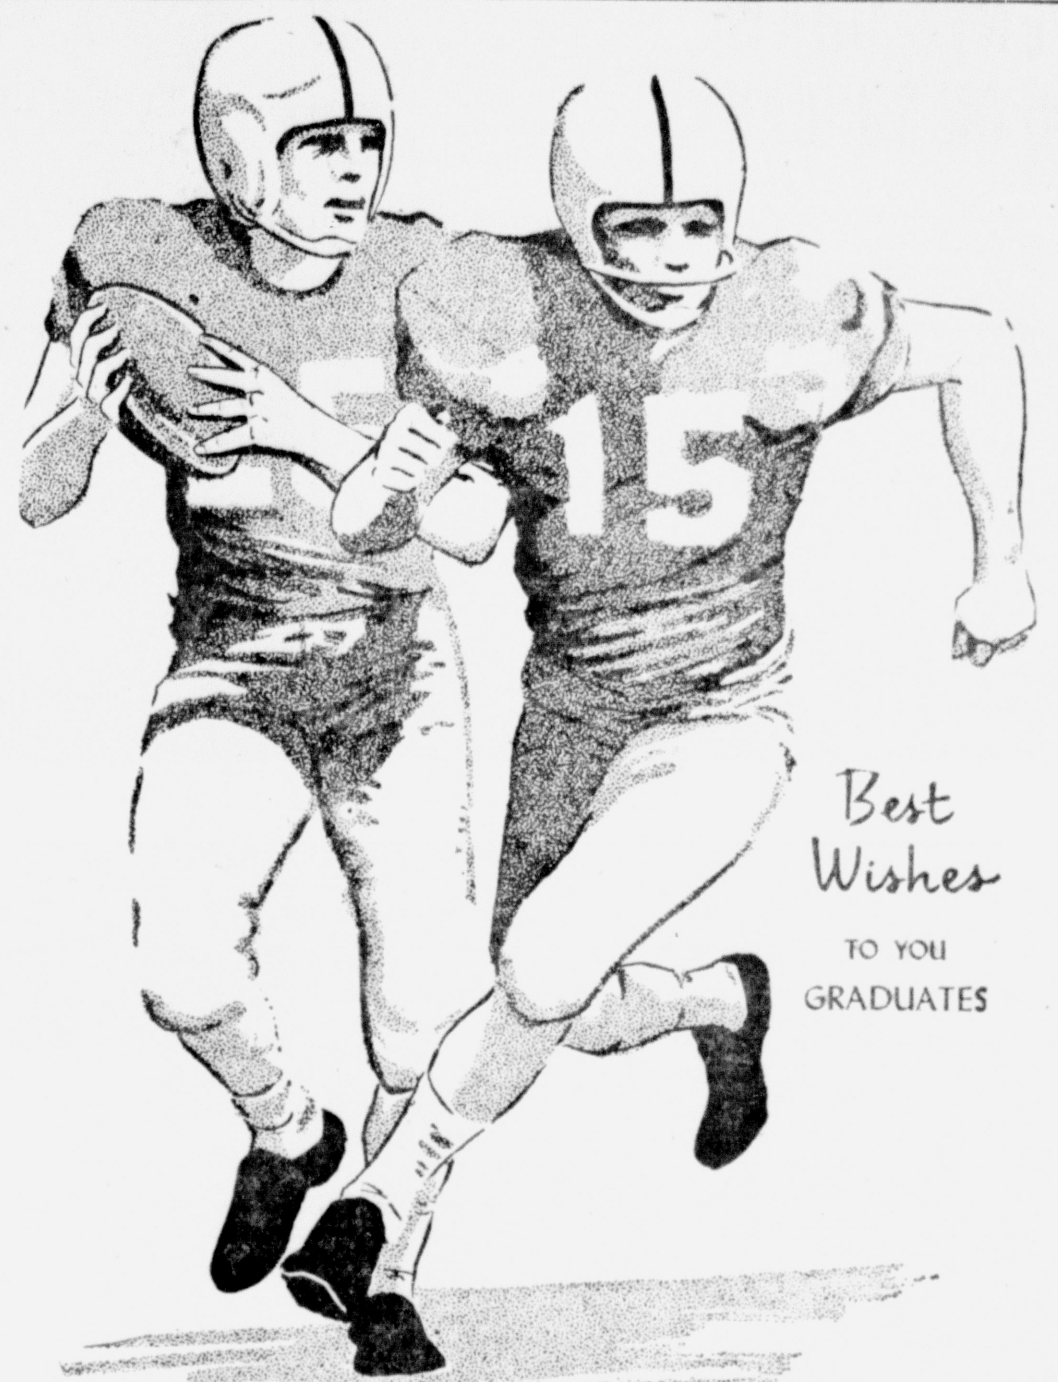

Her hero type is very much like an American man, she says, "quiet, tall and intellectual."

Another marriage barrier is low salaries in her area.

"A man must wait until he is making about $120 a month before he gets married. Food is not cheap and rent is about $25 a month."

Babs is a working girl earning

$60 a month as a receptionist. Little parties in Holland are not like American soirees. "We do not eat a lot at our parties. We have potato chips or pretzels, nibble on lumpias and drink soda pop." Lumpia is a Dutch version of a Chinese egg roll. Babs makes her own with chopped up vegetables, soy beans, leftover meat or fish.

CHARTER DAY
EVENTS DRAW
300 ON SUNDAY

Approximately 300 persons were on the Littlestown playground on Sunday afternoon for the annual charter presentation to the Cub pack, the Boy Scout troop and the Explorer post, for the awards ceremonies and the program presented by the Shoshonean Indian team.

The afternoon's events began with bugle call to assembly, Ronald Ruggles; flag ceremony with the American and troop flags being presented by Lewis Waltz and Douglas Barnhart for Pack 84; Ronald Redding and Robert Altoff for Troop 84 and Thomas Shildt and Charles Mummert for Post 84; pledge of allegiance and "America." Stewart N. Long, neighborhood commissioner, was master of ceremonies, and presented the national recognition banners for outstanding participation in scouting to Cubmaster Alvah L. Stonesifer, Scoutmaster Edgar A. Wolfe and Post Advisor David S. Kammerer Jr. It was noted that there are 45 volunteer leaders in the three Scouting units in the community, and among them they give enough hours to make up more than a full year to the boys under their supervision. A moment of silence was observed in memory of James Pittenturf, who was a Cub Scout at the time of his death in an auto accident in March.

GET PINS, BADGES

Cubmaster Stonesifer was in charge of the awards ceremony for the members of Pack 84, when eight boys were received into the pack and seven Cubs received their Webelos badge, the highest Cub Scout award, and were graduated into Boy Scouting.

Bobcat pins were presented to the new Cub Scouts and pinned on by their mothers and the new Cubs are Ronald Bancroft, Daniel D. Brown, Thomas Craig, Raymond Mummert, Randy Ohler, George Wherley, Dale Wolfe and Gary Louey.

Wolf badges were awarded to Gregory Bowers, James Crouse, William Gall, Earl Gregg, Terry J. Hall, Amos C. Jones 2nd, Ronald Kooztz, John Matiland, Randy Morgret, Barry Myers, Gregory Myers, Michael Redding, Robert Reinaman, Terry Shinham and Richard Thomas Jr.

OTHER AWARDS

Wolf gold arrow points went to Gregory Bowers, James Crouse, Earl Gregg, Terry J. Hall, Jon Little, Martin Mehrling, Randy Morgret, Barry Myers, Gregory Myers, Charles Pittenturf, Michael Redding, Donald Rinehart and Terry Shinham.

Wolf was received as a new den mother.

ANNIVERSARY AWARD

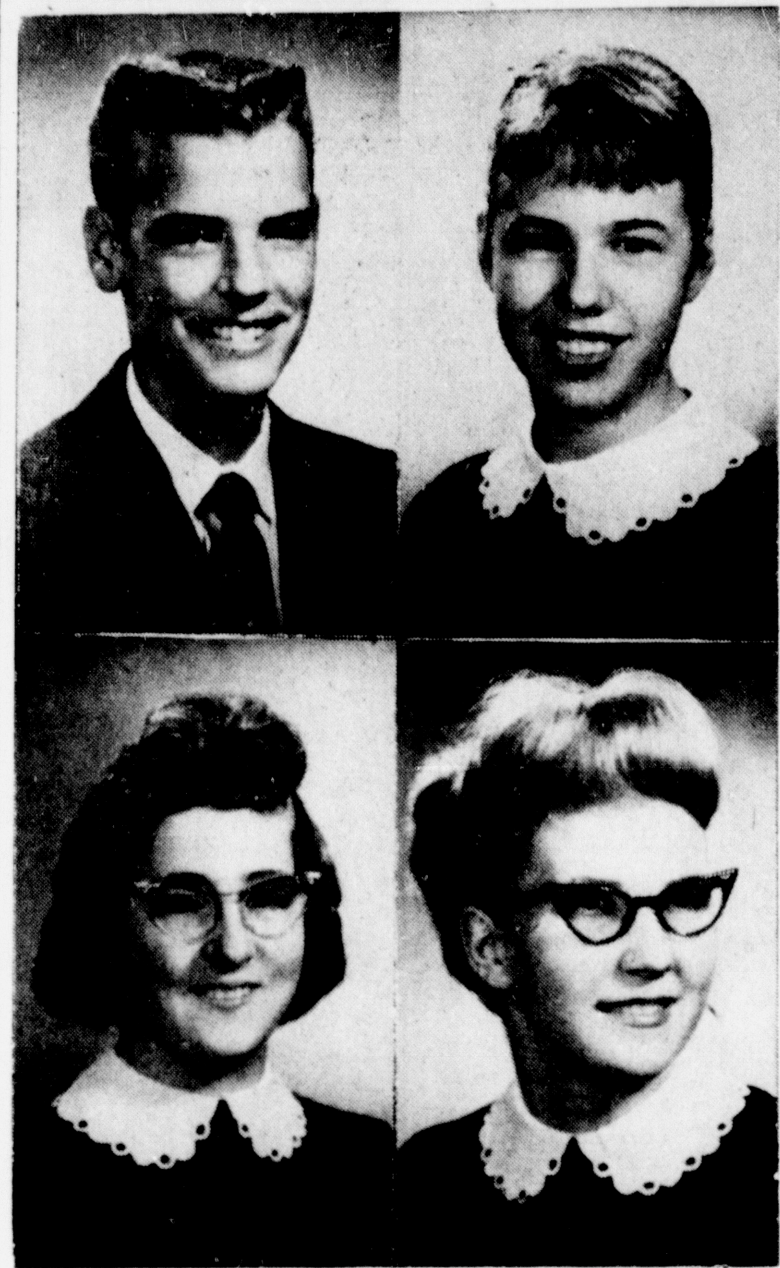

The Webelos awards were earned by Eugene Adams, Larry Hull, Walter Mehrling Steven Redding, Douglas Ruggles, William Snyder and Robin Weaver. They also received their graduation certificates and three-year pins and they were accepted into Troop 84 by Scoutmaster Wolfe.

Boy Scout handbooks were presented to those Cubs who will be 11 years old and eligible for Webelos training. They are Robert Collins, Robert Harmon, David Weissel and Richard Appler.

A 50th anniversary achievement award, which had been earned by Jay Beamer, but had not been received in February, was presented on Sunday. The Cubmaster also gave a resume of activities of the pack during the past year.

SUMMER PLANS

He listed the summer activities. They include participation in the Memorial Day parade this evening, meeting at the high school at 6:30 p.m. a fishing contest on June 24 for Cubs and their fathers only, to include a hike with box lunch, prizes for fishing, leaving at 10 a.m. from the engine house; an overnight hike on July 21 to the Fish and Game Farm, leaving at 6 p.m. from the engine house; a soap box derby on July 30, at a place to be announced and a visit to Camp Tuckahoe, for a memorial for

Dr. Frederick Tilberg, who is Black Walnut district vice chairman, district special gifts chairman and a member of the York Adams Area Council executive board, made the charter presentations with appropriate remarks. They were accepted by the institutional representatives of the three units. Beaven F. Hanlon accepted for Cub Pack 84; Luther D. Snyder for Troop 84 and Howard Bowman, representing Dr. Richard Greenholt. There are 68 Cubs registered, 45 Boy Scouts and 30 Explorers for Post 84.

District Chairman Charles E. Ritter announced that the three local units received the "100 per cent Boys' Life Award."

Stanley C. Rogers, field executive for the Black Walnut District, presented the Shoshonean Indian Team, a nonprofit organization of young men and women who have studied the history, art, dances and customs of the American Indian and who wear authentic reproductions of Indian costumes in their dancing. He served as narrator for the program which included the spear dance, the hunter dance, the Hopi, the social and the eagle dances, concluding with "The Littlest Warrior" to add a touch of humor. The dance team may be seen each Saturday evening at Camp Tuckahoe during the camping season at the campfire ceremony.

Today's Pattern

36-48
by Anne Adams

SCALLOPS outline a yoke — smart in same fabric as dress or crisp, white contrast to create bib effect. The skirt is an elegant hip-slimming and graceful in motion.

Printed Pattern 4755: Women's Sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48. Size 36 takes 4 1/2 yards 35-inch. Send 35 cents (no stamps please) to:
